NEW HAVEN PLANS BIG CHANGES

Dissolution of B. & M. Holding Company, Electrification in Boston and Cross-City Tunnel Proposed in Bill Soon to Be Presented

Conferences have recently been held between Governor Foss and the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad looking to the consummation of one of the most important transportation projects ever formulated, affecting Boston, and in the very near future a bill in line therewith will be introduced in the Legislature.

This bill, according to the Boston News Bureau, provides:

First—For the dissolution of the Boston Holding Company, and a lease of the Boston & Maine to the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

Second—For the electrification of the New Haven-Boston & Maine system within the metropolitan district.

Third—For the construction and electrification of a tunnel between the North and South Stations.

Fourth—For the elimination of all switching charges as between the two terminals and a flat rate within the electric zone.

RUNAWAY FALLS ON RIDER AFTER CARRIAGE CRASH

Benjamin Spencer, who has been visiting at the home of H. B. Day, the Boston banker, in West Newton, was thrown from a horse and seriously injured just before noon today. After hurling the youth to the street, the horse ran into a carriage near the West Newton railroad bridge, and collapsed, his body falling across Spencer's feet. He was picked up unconscious and sent to the Newton Hospital.

FLOOD AT HOLYOKE STOPS STREET CARS

HOLYOKE, April 10.—The flooding of the Northampton meadows by the Connecticut River today cut off all street car traffic between this place and Northampton. All paper mills on the lower level have been affected by the freshet through the loss of most of their power. The maximum today was 8 feet 6 inches, which is a foot less than the highest point last night. This taken to indicate that the river will be back to its old depth in about a week. It is likely the street car traffic will be cut off for another day or two.

MILLION POUNDS OF FISH AT T WHARF

T wharf was swamped with fish today. Sixteen schooners brought in over a million pounds. Over half of this record lot was brought in by four vessels, the Conqueror, Arethusa, Governor Foss and Moonshin. Such a flood of fish glutted the market that the majority of it was sent around to Gloucester to be canned.

SHANGHAI, China, April 10.—Wu Ting Fang, for years Minister to the United States from the old Chinese empire, was today nominated by Yuan Chi Kai, President of the Chinese republic, to represent the new government in the United States.

South Boston Upheld as a Model District by Pastor Sheerin

No Bad Dance Halls, Fine Moving Pictures and Its Morals Are Good, Declares Minister.

"I challenge you to find any city in the United States that has less immorality and sickness in proportion to its population than South Boston," said Rev. James Sheerin, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, South Boston, in his noon address today in St. Paul's Church.

"South Boston is better in many respects than many districts of this city," continued Mr. Sheerin. "It has no bad dance halls and its moving picture shows do not shock the most sensitive.

"It is part of this great city of Boston and other sections like the Back Bay should be interested in it.

"Sometimes people get depressed in South Boston and go elsewhere, only to repent afterwards of their mistake. Stay in South Boston and get a new heart and a new life in living there."

Men Join the Girls in Carpet Strike

Roxbury Operatives Cheer Move of Finishers, Called a Blow to the Factory.

In response to the appeal of the striking girl pickets at the Roxbury Carpet Factory ten men employed in the finishing department of the Administer branch of the mill today walked out and refused to return. Without the services of these men it is said to be impossible to turn out a finished piece of goods, and the news was greeted with cheers by the strikers at the Vernon Hall headquarters.

Another victory was won when Foreman McCarthy took a party of girls to the mills intending to employ them as strike-breakers. The girls, when told a strike was in progress, refused to work.

Mrs. Sara. A. Conboy, who is in charge of the strike, was not on the scene today, having gone to Manchester, N. H., to attend a strike meeting there.

The pickets were out in force and reported accessions to the ranks of the strikers.

Scituate Treasurer Buries Woodchucks

Pesky Critters' Scalps Are Worth $.25 and He Pays It, Then Plays Undertaker.

William Richardson, town treasurer of Scituate, has been given additional municipal honors.

He has been elected official grave digger for woodchucks.

Scituate pays a bounty of twenty-five cents each for woodchuck scalps. The woodchuck is a pest in Scituate. He destroys market gardens. Also, the loud noise of his eating disturbs the literary labors of the writers' colony for which Scituate is famous. It interferes with the inspiration of the Arts and Crafts Brotherhood, for which Scituate is likewise noted.

As town treasurer it is up to Mr. Richardson to O. K. the woodchuck accounts. He gets a woodchuck's body and pays over a quarter to the local Nimrod who accomplished the death and attends to the funeral.

Young Law Student Clears His Client

Edward Kenny's Plea Saves Automobilist, When Four Fellow-Prisoners Are Fined.

Edward Kenney, nineteen-year-old Boston University law student in the Woburn District Court today appeared as attorney for John J. McCarthy, of Salem, an automobilist who had been held up by the Winchester police for not blowing his horn at an intersecting thoroughfare. Kenney won his case. Four other defendants were fined $10 each.

Last Saturday and Sunday the Winchester police set a trap on Lake street and thirty-nine automobilists were held up for not blowing their horns. In court today were Samuel H. Scribner, Michael F. Gookin, John S. Sawyer, and Wilfred Achin, all of Lowell, beside McCarthy. Scribner and Gookin pleaded guilty. Sawyer and Achin entered a plea of nolo contendere. McCarthy, through his young counsel, pleaded not guilty, and Kenney cross examined Patrolman Kelley, who stopped the automobilist.

Musical Parade in Lowell Strike

LOWELL, April 10.—A parade of 1,500 strikers, with musical instruments of all sorts—drums, horns, fiddles and accordions, formed today in front of the Appleton and Hamilton mills and paraded through the streets of the mill district, shouting and singing. The paraders were in good humor at the repeated reports that a settlement of the strike will be effected within a few days.

The mill treasurers have held repeated meetings to discuss the strikers' demand, and since the Textile Council offered to accept a 10 per cent. increase in wages, there has been a general belief that the I. W. W. would recede from their 15 per cent. demand and accept terms of settlement.

INSANITY PLEA FOR RICHESON

Unusual Form of Mental Aberration to Be Considered in Petition for Life of Ex-Minister Convicted of Killing Avis Linnell.

Insanity of an unusual form, which will be described by alienists at the hearing before Governor Foss and the Executive Council, a disordered state of mind carrying with it a claim of legal irresponsibility, will be alleged in the petition for the commutation of the sentence of Clarence V. T. Richeson from death to life imprisonment.

A volume of evidence relating to Richeson's family history, which Attorney John L. Lee of Virginia has been collecting for weeks, will be augmented by the findings of mental experts engaged to examine the prisoner in his cell at the Charles street jail.

Although he has not written a letter to his son since the latter confessed that he poisoned Avis Linnell, the prisoner's aged father, Thomas Vorland Richeson, will come to Boston from Lynchburg, Va., to be in close touch with the proceedings into which every possible effort and influence will be instilled to save the former Methodist preacher from going to the electric chair during the week of May 19.

Richeson's Father Coming.

It was learned today that the father will probably accompany Attorney Lee to Boston, but no definite date has been fixed for their arrival. At the office of Attorney William A. Morse, Boston counsel, it was said that Mr. Lee would arrive about April 21. He has written asking that the proceedings be executed with all possible dispatch, as he has many legal engagements in the South.

Counsel are not discussing the details of their plans, but it is now assured that no steps will be taken before April 26, when Governor Foss will hear the case prepared by Attorneys Morse and Lee. The petition will be formally entered a few days later and will be submitted to the Executive Council by Governor Foss to be voted upon.

The closing week of April will be a critical period in the life of Richeson. It will determine his fate. That is why not only his old father but all of his brothers and sisters are expected here. They want to be in touch with every development in the last fight to avert not only the pain but the disgrace of the execution of a man who occupied a pulpit. Many church interests are expected to give support to the commutation plea, more to prevent a stain on the church than from sympathy for the transgressor who forgot his vows.

Surprise Is Expected.

While counsel decline to reveal details, it is known that they have secured data which they consider will be sufficiently convincing to offset the court's decree and permit the young Virginian to repent in prison cell. The evidence is said to embrace features of a surprising nature.

While his attorneys and relatives are perfecting matters for final appeal, Richeson is suffering from a severe attack of laryngitis in his cell. In the absence of Dr. Sargent, the jail physician, he is being attended daily by Dr. David Brough of the Board of Health, who reports that his condition is not serious. It is the result of a cold contracted by a recent stroll in the yard without an overcoat. Richeson has worn the same thin blue serge suit since his arrest last October.

The only member of the family who writes to him, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, is his brother Donald, who sends two letters every week from Chicago. The balance of his mail is so objectionable that the letters never reach him. Many cranks continue to write expressing either indignation or sympathy, while many bluntly inform him that he deserves even greater torture than the court has meted out to him.

ENGINEERS MAY TIE UP FIFTY RAILROADS

NEW YORK, April 10.—Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers admitted today that a strike by members which will tie up fifty railroads operating east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio River, will follow if a referendum vote which has been taken among the members of the organization, the ballots were counted today by a committee headed by Warren S. Stone, president of the brotherhood, and although the result will not be announced until tomorrow it was learned unofficially that every member of the organization has voted for a walkout.

COLLINS TO HEAD QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL

It was announced today in Quincy that Ernest L. Collins, now submaster of the Everett High School, had been elected to the position of headmaster of Quincy High School, to succeed James D. CUSTOM HOUSE SHAKEUP HERE

A long-threatened shake-up hit the United States customs service at the port of Boston today.

Twenty-four night inspectors, their offices being abolished, were reduced to the position of watchmen, with the pay of all but four or five lessened. One reduction of pay was from $1,065 to $720.

Chester T. Miller, who was captain of night inspectors at $1,465, was reduced to the rank of watchman at $950. He resigned. Other resignations are expected.

Thirty-six new watchmen were appointed from the civil service list. These, with the force of night inspectors made watchmen brought the total force of watchmen to sixty.

The hours of work are re-arranged, but are not increased materially.

The change of name and the reduction of pay hit the men the hardest. One significant circumstance was that no officers of the former night inspectors' force were chosen officers of the new watchman force.

These changes were ordered by Secretary McVey, who is following out the Loeb policy of retrenchment and of speeding up the work of the service.

This is not an actual retrenchment for this part, as the force of watchmen more than doubles the old force of night inspectors. But the reduction of pay effects a retrenchment so far as individual work is concerned.

The night inspectors were really night watchmen who were given the title of night inspectors and were proud of it. Charles E. Miller, as captain of night inspectors, drew $1,465 a year. Two sergeants drew $1,200 apiece. The inspectors were paid $1,065.

All these twenty-four men are made watchmen except the four or five selected as officers of the new watchman force. Charles H. Tuckett, who was an inspector at $1,095, was appointed lieutenant and acting captain at $1,000. He is one of the few benefiting by the change.

Edward Dowd, Dennis H. Leahy, Walter Moriarty and Ernest De Witte, inspectors on $1,095, are made roundsmen of the watch at $1,200. Dowd is also named acting lieutenant while Lieutenant Tuckett is detailed acting captain. A permanent captain is to be appointed.

Horse Wedged in Ditch Saved By Crew and Derrick of Elevated

M. S. P. C. A. Rescue Outfit Fails and Life of Horse Is Despaired of For a Time.

After being tightly wedged in a ditch for two hours and fifteen minutes during which his life was at times despaired of, the wrecking derrick of the Boston Elevated lifted a horse belonging to the General Baking Company of Charlestown, out of a cavein directly in front of Station 9, Roxbury, and the animal trotted away uninjured.

The horse was being driven by Harry Tank, who evidently did not see the red danger lights around the pit and the horse's hind legs slipped in. Gradually the body of the animal sunk lower and the crew of the M. S. P. C. A. rescue wagon could not raise the horse. The Elevated men were sent for as a last resort and by slinging a heavy band around the horse slowly and surely raised it to safety. Other than a cut on the flank the horse was uninjured.

COAL CONFERENCE BEGINS, AND MINERS PRESENT DEMANDS

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—After a suspension of work of nearly a fortnight, representatives of the anthracite miners and the operators met here today in joint conference, which will decide whether a strike will be called or whether the men shall return to work. The leader of the mine owners is George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia & Reading, and also chairman of the operators' conference committee, while President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America is the dominant figure among the miners' delegates.

The ultimatum which the miners had prepared is a demand for recognition of the union. The operators are said to be willing to grant a wage increase of 10 per cent., but there is strong opposition to union recognition.

MRS. CONNER SHOWS LETTERS

Mrs. Owen A. Conner, wife of the commercial manager of the Boston office of the Postal Union Telegraph Company, appeared in the Municipal Court today to prosecute her husband and introduced letters which she said were given her by "the other woman" in the case. Mrs. Conner claimed these letters were written by her husband.

As a result of the evidence given by Mrs. Conner and in the letters she laid before Judge Sullivan, Conner was held in $400 for the Grand Jury. Conner was arrested March 3 on a warrant secured by his wife, which charged him with a serious offense.

On the stand Mrs. Conner told the court how she had done her own detective work and had "trapped" her husband. She said that later she had secured the letters which she presented to the court as evidence.

Mrs. Conner testified that it was on March 2 she went to the Quincy House and saw the names of "Mr. and Mrs. A. Blanchard" on the register. She said she recognized the handwriting as that of her husband and immediately telephoned up to the hotel room and asked the woman who replied to meet her in the parlor.

"I went up to the parlor and met a woman who told me that she was Mrs. Blanchard. I told her that I was Mrs. Conner and that Owen was my husband. She replied that she did not know that he was married and that he was not there at the time. After talking to the woman for some time she turned over all of the letters which Conner had written her.

"I then telephoned to the Western Union office and asked my husband to meet me. He refused. I then went to the main office and told my husband what I had discovered and asked for an explanation. He refused to say anything, but I heard him call up the Quincy House and tell someone there to get away as quick as possible in a taxicab. He spoke so low that I could not hear everything that he was saying."

Mrs. Conner said that she and her husband came to Boston February 19. About three weeks later he suggested that she go to New York. She returned to Boston in about ten days. She said that her husband continued to send her away every time that she came back to Boston. She further claimed that she secured 50 per cent position her husband holds for him through influence she had in New York.

CLARK AND ROOSEVELT TRIUMPH IN PRIMARIES

Taft and Wilson Swamped in Illinois Balloting and New England Is Now the Battleground; Contests in Maine and Vermont.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Speaker Clark's victory at the primaries in Illinois roused enthusiasm on the floor of the House today when with cheers he was greeted as the "inevitable Democratic candidate" for the Presidency. When the journal had been read, Rocker of Missouri obtained unanimous consent to address the House for one minute and said:

"On behalf of Missouri, I desire to express its great appreciation for the splendid tribute paid the Speaker of this House yesterday by the splendid Democracy of Illinois. I want to say that the result of the primaries makes the Speaker the inevitable Democratic nominee for President of the United States."

ILLINOIS PRIMARY RESULTS.

Clark	221,000
Wilson	79,500
Estimated plurality	141,500
Roosevelt	233,000
Taft	118,000
Estimated plurality	115,000

VOTE IN CHICAGO.

Clark	125,000
Wilson	37,500
Estimated plurality	87,500

Following the big Clark and Roosevelt victories in the Illinois primaries, New England today became the national political battleground. The Taft and Roosevelt forces clashed in State convention in Vermont and Maine.

In these States both sides claimed that before the Delegates would be elected favorable to their candidates. The Taft leaders claimed the Vermont delegation by 50 votes.

Maine has twelve delegates in the national Republican convention; Vermont has eight.

As a result of the Illinois victory the delegates for the leading Republican candidates for President lined up as follows:

Taft	287
Roosevelt	101
La Follette	36
Cummins	4
Total number of delegates in convention	1,078
Needed to nominate	540

Open Clark Headquarters Here.

In Massachusetts those in charge of the Champ Clark campaign were jubilant over the victory of the Speaker in Illinois.

Headquarters were opened at No. 1 Beacon street, and preparations were put under way for an aggressive campaign to embrace the entire State during the next twenty days. The Massachusetts primaries are to be held April 30.

Telegrams and letters poured into the new Clark headquarters from all parts of the State, expressing confidence, and asking for speakers. Letters came from Lowell, Worcester, Cambridge, Fall River, Lawrence, Lynn, Salem, New Bedford, Holyoke, Chicopee and North Adams.

Clark Far in the Lead.

In the Democratic presidential fight the figures for the fight for delegates stands as follows:

Clark	129
Wilson	34
Marshall	30
Harmon	4
Total number of delegates	1,094
Necessary to a choice (two-thirds)	729

In Vermont today the Roosevelt leaders centred their efforts to keep Ex-Governor Mead off the list of delegates. In both Vermont and Maine the Roosevelt leaders refused all efforts at compromise and declared for a fight to a finish on the convention floor. In Maine the Taft people offered the Roosevelt leaders three delegates, with nine for Taft but the offer was refused.

TAFT AND WILSON ARE SNOWED UNDER IN THE ILLINOIS PRIMARIES

CHICAGO, April 10.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt swept Illinois, smothering President Taft with a plurality of 115,000;

TAFT SWAMPED IN ILLINOIS

Champ Clark overwhelmed Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey for the presidential nomination by a vote of nearly three to one, and Senator Shelby M. Cullom, retiring member of the upper house of Congress, was said to join the retired Senate Republican leaders, according to returns today in the State-wide primaries in Illinois.

Although the figures have not yet been completed, President Taft secured only two of the State's fifty-eight delegates, while the Colonel is sure of fifty-two and late returns from the two districts still doubtful indicate he led there.

Every delegate sent to the Democratic convention at Baltimore will wear the Clark stamp, not a single Wilson man having been elected.

Taft Wins in Lorimer Territory.

Taft's solitary victory came in the Fifth, the home of Senator William Lorimer, former Congressman and dictator of the community for years. The victory was a Lorimer affair. The Senator, stung by the taunts of the former President, worked like a Trojan for the administration and was winning for Sherman [illegible] vote.

Six other Chicago district war is doubtful this morning. The Eighth, now represented by Thomas Gallagher, a Democrat. The Twenty-fifth district in Southern Illinois has not yet been completely canvassed, but the indications from the meagre returns show Roosevelt in the lead. The colonel carries the Nineteenth district, represented by William McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, and where Roosevelt spent part of the time in his recent swing around the State.

He also carried the Eighteenth, Uncle Joe Cannon's home.

Roosevelt's total estimated vote is 233,000; Taft's, 118,000. Roosevelt carried Chicago by 25,000.

Clark Swamps Wilson.

Champ Clark's sweep of the State was even cleaner than Roosevelt's. With a total vote almost as large as that of the colonel, Clark left Wilson hopelessly snowed under. The total vote for the Missourian was estimated from returns from practically every part of the State at 220,000. Wilson received 70,500.

Clark was strong in the city of Chicago, where a heavy vote was polled. His vote in the city totaled 125,000, while Wilson was left with only 37,500. In the downState districts, where Wilson had just completed a tour of the State, the Speaker was easily victorious, running strongly throughout the State. Wilson carried St. Clair County, which includes East St. Louis. He also won in Winnebago, but by a small plurality. In every other county Clark was the victor. He carried Sangamon County, including Springfield, the capital, by 400.

The Wilson men had made a special effort to win there. Clark carried practically every precinct in Chicago by an average vote of 4 to 1 over the New Jersey man.

Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, who was also a contender for the Republican national delegates, secured a total vote approximating 37,000. Only half of this vote was cast in Chicago, where the La Follette headquarters are located and where considerable work was done for the Wisconsin man for the past few years.

The rest of his vote was scattering, making him in no district a real contender for the delegates. Lawrence Sherman was the leader of the Republicans in the race for the senatorial nomination. His plurality was 60,000 in the State, 10,000 in Cook County. Two other contenders for the office were in the field, but in no sense places running a had second. The fact that Cullom is an old man, that he has served twenty-nine years in the Senate and the bitterness engendered from his defiance fight in the Senate when Cullom voted to sustain his colleague, all militated against him. Sherman had a substantial lead in practically all parts of the State.

Governor Deneen Renominated.

James Hamilton Lewis, unopposed, was the Democratic candidate for senatorial recommendation. Governor Charles S. Deneen was renominated by the Republicans. He received 120,000 against 60,000 given Lee Small, the candidate of the former faction. There were eight candidates in the field.

Edward F. Dunne, former mayor of Chicago, captured the Democratic gubernatorial nomination with a total of 155,000 over 80,000 for Samuel Alschuler with four candidates in the field. Dunne polled 110,000 votes in Chicago.

Aside from the fight, woman suffrage was given a slap in Chicago. The question was put on the ballots in Cook county only as a test vote. It was defeated 60,000 to 30,000.

B. M. Culpepper and William E. Mason, former U. S. Senator, received the Republican nomination for congressman at large, while Lawrence B. Stringer and Henry Hagen received the same office at the hands of the Democrats.

The incumbents of the congressional districts were renominated except in the sixth, represented by Edmund Stack, Democrat, whose place James Mangan was nominated by the Democrats. He will be opposed by Carl T. Riggs, Republican, in the fourteenth, represented by James McKinley, Republican, Lawrence M. Mcgirr received the G. O. P. nomination. Clyde Kelly, Democrat, was nominated by the Democrats. The Republicans named no candidate to make the race against Congressman Henry T. Rainey, Democratic, in the twenty-second district.

The news of his success in Illinois was received by Speaker Clark in Washington.

"That's the best news I've heard since the last baby was born," said the Speaker in an emphatic tone.

Governor Wilson's overwhelming defeat, after his personal campaign in that State, weakens him greatly in the contest in the nomination for President.

Harrison Lauds Hearst.

Mayor Harrison, discussing the primary results, said:

The Progressive Democracy of Illinois and the Hearst newspapers won a brilliant victory today at the primary, when they carried the endorsement of the candidacy of Speaker Clark for the office of President of the United States.

It was a direct and telling blow against Sullivanism and denotes the fact that the people of Chicago and State of Illinois are emphatically opposed to the "machine" candidates.

I believe that the choice of a majority of the Democrats of this State in selecting Champ Clark as their standard bearer is a wise choice, and that the tremendous victory in Illinois but presages similar outbursts of public sentiment to be heard from other States when they vote on the question in the immediate future.

Clark as President would be incorruptible and fearless, and his rugged honesty would be proof against the sinister influence of the big interests and their hired agents. He is the character of man we need at the head of our national affairs, and I believe he will be nominated at Baltimore despite the fight which will be waged against him there by the money powers.

Mr. Hearst cannot be too highly praised for his successful fight for Clark in Illinois.

Aviator Rodgers Killed by "Ethereal Dementia"

Scientists Blame Aerial Gases for Fatalities

WRECK OF CALBRAITH P. RODGERS' AIRSHIP, IN WHICH HE PLUNGED TO DEATH.

CHAMP CLARK GIVES MR. HEARST CREDIT FOR ILLINOIS VICTORY

To the Editor of the AMERICAN:

I, of course, rejoice greatly at the glad tidings from the magnificent Commonwealth of Illinois, and am doubly thankful to my friends for the splendid victory they won.

I was tied down here in the discharge of my duties as Speaker, and could not help my friends any in Illinois, but they have done so well that it is clear that they did not need any help from me.

Our decisive victory in Illinois, which the Democrats will probably carry in November, must in the very nature of things, have great influence throughout the country, not only because of her large delegation, the third largest in the Union, but also because of her commanding central position and because of the bright prospects we have of transferring her electoral vote to the Democratic column.

I am profoundly grateful to all who aided in carrying Illinois for me. Among them was the powerful influence of the HEARST newspapers which have stood by me loyally, manfully and unselfishly from the beginning from Massachusetts to California.

CHAMP CLARK.

Washington, April 9.

That there is a gaseous substance in the atmosphere that causes the brain of aviators to become dizzy, is the belief of scientists who have been making a serious study of the peculiar conditions under which aviators seem to lose control of their machines. The more recent death of Calbraith P. Rodgers, the daring cross-country flyer, who was the first to sail in the air from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast, has increased the belief that aviators are sometimes overcome by a sort of an ethereal dementia.

Rodgers was shirting out over the ocean at Long Beach, California, while an immense throng watched his strange antics. He drove his machine into a flock of sea gulls and chased them about, like a kid chasing chickens in a barnyard.

In the midst of his playful tactics, the crowd was horrified to see the car drop to one side and then to the other, finally dropping from the height of several hundred feet to the ground.

The daring aviator was crushed beneath the engine of the aircraft, his neck and back broken, and he lived but a few minutes, another victim to the strange malady of the upper air regions.

Jr., fought until the bulletins from Chicago announced the overwhelming victory of Roosevelt in Illinois against anything in the platform that would pledge New York to the renomination of Taft.

"We must be uninstructed and in a position to improve any opportunity that may offer," declared Barnes at midnight.

When the bulletins from the Illinois primary were shot up to the conference room, however, he recognized that President Taft's prestige must be bolstered and the Illinois blow by some sort of favorable pronouncement from New York, and a platform that discredited all of Roosevelt principles of government, but at the same time did not directly pledge the four delegates-at-large and their alternates to the recall.

The Roosevelt followers surrendered completely to the Taft forces today, first as the convention was called to order it was announced that there would be no opportunity to inject their anti-Taft resolutions. This action insured harmony and prevented a battle on the floor. Roosevelt men were hopelessly in the minority.

Declaring flatly against the recall of the judiciary and all the seething politics in the Roosevelt propaganda, the platform adopted by the delegates at large from New York and the delegates from the Republican districts to contest at the Republican convention for the adoption of the principles herein indorsed and the instruction of the doctrines herein opposed.

We applaud the patriotism, wisdom and unbounded courage of President William H. Taft. The overwhelming majority of the representatives of the party in this convention assembled favor his renomination, and we urge that the delegates-at-large from this State take action at Chicago carry out this choice of the Republicans of this State, and that the district delegates unite to the same end."

The platform of the New York Republican mouthpiece at the convention gave room for a statement last night protesting against the right of Professor Nicholas Murray Butler to read Colonel Roosevelt's telegram, but he did in his speech as temporary chairman.

"I must say something to say along these lines on the convention floor today," declared Prendergast.

The platform as it was adopted had but three planks. Two of these came from the delegates who were part of Colonel Roosevelt's World's Work representation. It was reported this morning that these men were struggling in favor of making a hot declaration for Colonel Roosevelt from the floor of the convention, but strenuous efforts were being made to dissuade them.

"SLUGGED THEM OVER ROPES"

—Col. Roosevelt

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 10.—Jubilant over his victory in Illinois, Roosevelt today decided to extend his personal campaign throughout the country. He may go as far as the Pacific coast. The colonel beamed as he rapidly perused a hundred messages of congratulation that reached him here and at Greensburg, where he made a brief talk.

"We slugged them over the ropes," was his emphatic declaration. He then announced that he will leave New York Friday for Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Next week he will go to Nebraska, and he may prolong this tour through other Western States as far as the coast.

On the platform at Jeannette, he said: "This is the fight of the people against the politician. It is a fight for a square deal, fair play, justice to every man and woman."

He urged his hearers to repeat in Pennsylvania by 100,000 plurality the Illinois verdict against the politicians.

At Greensburg he appealed to his hearers to show they were their own masters, and speaking at the Camoria Theatre here, he said:

"You people in Pennsylvania have the opportunity before you to show your disapproval of boss rule. You ought to do it. I hope you will do it."

"We'll do it, Teddy," cried a chorus of voices.

The crowds along the way were all enthusiastic and Roosevelt was loudly cheered at every stop.

At Pittsburg he said:

"We knocked the bosses down yesterday in Illinois. The people had their say in a fair and square primary. What we did there we can repeat anywhere that they let the people speak for themselves. The voice of the boss will no longer be heard in this land when the people turn out as they did yesterday in Illinois.

"It was a glorious victory—the people's victory. The fight will go on, for the principles at stake in yesterday's primaries must win everywhere.

"I am in the fight to stay."

In this way Colonel Roosevelt, as his train left on today's stumping tour of Pennsylvania, spoke of the sweep of Illinois. Roosevelt was elated over the outcome of the primaries. While his managers had asserted him that he would win, they had no idea it would be a landslide. The ex-President was the more gratified that the victory was such a decisive one. The overpowering majorities he got over President Taft in Chairman McKinley's district were cause for immense delight.

Roosevelt had been particularly anxious to carry Chairman McKinley's domain and to have done so by such a positive vote made him doubly pleased.

"It was a fine victory; fine!" he exclaimed, when the whole panorama of victory was unfolded to him.

SURELY TAKE "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

Sweetens your stomach, clears your head and thoroughly cleanses your liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, foul gases and clogged-up waste.

All those days when you feel miserable, headachy, bilious and dull are due to torpid liver and sluggish bowels. The days when your stomach is sour and full of gas, when you have indigestion; the nights when your nerves twitch and you are restless and can't sleep could be avoided with a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs. Isn't it foolish to be distressed when there is such a pleasant way to overcome it?

Give your inactive liver and ten yards of waste-clogged bowels a thorough cleansing this time. Put an end to constipation.

Take a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight, sure, and just see for yourself by morning how gently but thoroughly all the sour bile, undigested fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter is moved on and out of your system—no nausea—no griping—no weakness.

You simply can't have your liver inactive or your stomach sour, bowels constipated with sour, decaying waste matter and feel well. The need of a laxative is a natural need, but with delicious Syrup of Figs you are not drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot injure.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with scorn, any of the so-called Fig Syrup imitations. They are meant to deceive you. Look on the label. The genuine, old reliable bears the name, California Fig Syrup Company.

OLD GUARD FORCED TO INDORSE TAFT IN NEW YORK CONVENTION

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 10.—The hands of the "Old Guard" controlling the Republican State convention were forced by the returns from Illinois, and President Taft won in the platform declarations that were adopted by the committee on resolutions in a session that lasted until this morning. State Chairman William Barnes, Jr., fought until the bulletins from Chicago announced the overwhelming victory of Roosevelt in Illinois against anything in the platform that would pledge New York to the renomination of Taft.

"We must be uninstructed and in a position to improve any opportunity that may offer," declared Barnes at midnight.

When the bulletins from the Illinois primary were shot up to the conference room, however, he recognized that President Taft's prestige must be bolstered and the Illinois blow by some sort of favorable pronouncement from New York, and a platform that discredited all of Roosevelt principles of government, but at the same time did not directly pledge the four delegates-at-large and their alternates to the recall.

The Roosevelt followers surrendered completely to the Taft forces today, first as the convention was called to order it was announced that there would be no opportunity to inject their anti-Taft resolutions. This action insured harmony and prevented a battle on the floor. Roosevelt men were hopelessly in the minority.

Declaring flatly against the recall of the judiciary and all the seething politics in the Roosevelt propaganda, the platform adopted by the delegates at large from New York and the delegates from the Republican districts to contest at the Republican convention for the adoption of the principles herein indorsed and the instruction of the doctrines herein opposed.

We applaud the patriotism, wisdom and unbounded courage of President William H. Taft. The overwhelming majority of the representatives of the party in this convention assembled favor his renomination, and we urge that the delegates-at-large from this State take action at Chicago carry out this choice of the Republicans of this State, and that the district delegates unite to the same end."

The platform of the New York Republican mouthpiece at the convention last night protesting against the right of Professor Nicholas Murray Butler to read Colonel Roosevelt's telegram, but he did in his speech as temporary chairman.

"I must say something to say along these lines on the convention floor today," declared Prendergast.

The platform as it was adopted had but three planks. Two of these came from the delegates who were part of Colonel Roosevelt's World's Work representation. It was reported this morning that these men were struggling in favor of making a hot declaration for Colonel Roosevelt from the floor of the convention, but strenuous efforts were being made to dissuade them.

T. R. WON ON LOCAL ISSUES

—Chairman McKinley

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Congressman William B. McKinley, director of the national Taft bureau, explains today that the defeat of Taft in the Illinois primaries was due to the fact that Roosevelt waged his contest on local issues purely, and in the scramble of the many candidates for Governor party lines were broken and national issues were lost sight of. Mr. McKinley said:

"The result in Illinois was not unexpected to those familiar with the situation. The issues which occupied the attention of the people of the State were so peculiarly local as to cause the Presidential issue to be lost sight of, so far as President Taft was concerned. I say this advisedly and for this reason:

Mr. Roosevelt recently invaded the State and devoted the major portion of his addresses to subjects which had no relation whatever, for the most part, to the issues on which the Republican party must meet the Democratic party in November. Furthermore, the questions discussed by Mr. Roosevelt in his speeches had little to do with the actual issues which he has raised between himself and Mr. Taft.

"In other words, Mr. Roosevelt participated in the campaign in Illinois with all the freedom of a full-fledged citizen of the State and not and failed to the voters of Illinois on the subjects which were uppermost in their minds—namely, State issues.

"The situation in the State was emphatically reflected by the fact that there were no less than eight Republican candidates for the nomination for Governor, each representing a different brand of Republicanism. Naturally such a situation resulted in the complete breaking down of all party organization as it has existed heretofore, and therefore the last campaign, and brought about new alignments on purely local issues.

"These new organizations Mr. Roosevelt was able to reach by personal contact, an experience Mr. Taft could not enjoy.

GIRL WORKS 81 HOURS A WEEK

Samuel E. Luscomb, owner of a variety store at Western avenue and Washington street, Lynn, was arraigned in the Lynn District Court today on a charge of violating the 54-hour labor law in working a girl clerk in his store 81½ hours a week. Judge Lummus placed the case on file after Luscomb agreed to pay costs of $25.

Miss Gertrude Davis, twenty-two years old, told the Court sometimes she did work from 6:45 in the morning until 10 at night, and that sometimes she became very tired and that her nerves were affected. But she said she was satisfied, and never had complained.

State Detective Angus McDonald, the complainant, said he had received an anonymous letter telling him the clerk in the Luscomb store was kept working all the time.

"I found the girl worked from 6:45 in the morning till 6.45 every night," said the State officer. "She also worked Sundays and would work nights three or four times a week. I counted up and the average was about 81½ hours a week. She was kept so busy she didn't have time to go out to dinner. I am investigating other cases similar to this in Lynn."

Luscomb declared he really was not overworking the girl, and that she had time to read.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach Are in Paris

Return of Husband Demanded

MRS. F. O. BEACH, IN PARIS WITH HER HUSBAND

"MAN IN GRAY SUIT" SOUGHT TO CLEAR THE AIKEN MYSTERY, SAYS DETECTIVE.

PARIS, April 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Beach, the principals in the "Aiken scandal," arrived here today from London and went immediately to the home of William K. Vanderbilt, whose guests they are. It was reported Beach would consult with Mr. Vanderbilt on the advisability of returning to Aiken, S. C., to face charges of attacking his wife with intent to kill on the night of February 26 last. The New York clubman and broker said he had nothing to say.

AUTHORITIES MAY ASK STATE DEPARTMENT TO BRING HUSBAND BACK

AIKEN, S. C., April 10.—That the authorities who are investigating the mysterious attack upon Mrs. Frederick Beach, the beautiful New York society woman, in Aiken on the night of February 26 are preparing to invoke the aid of the State Department at Washington to apprehend F. O. Beach, the husband, abroad became known today.

Detective Baughn, who swore out the warrant for Mr. Beach, charging assault with intent to commit murder, began to take steps to appeal to the State Department as soon as he learned that Mr. Beach had left this country.

Friends of Mr. Beach in the Winter colony here, led by C. Oliver Iselin, the wealthy New York clubman, are waging a campaign in behalf of the accused man. Mr. Iselin informed Mayor Gyles that he intended to send a cablegram to Mr. Beach today advising him of the warrant and advising that he return to Aiken and face the charges. Although it was regarded here as a certainty that Governor Blease would sign the extradition papers on Governor Dix of New York, it was not believed that Beach could be brought back from Europe, as the offence with which he is charged is only a misdemeanor under the laws of this State.

The authorities are willing to allow Mr. Beach to sign a bond guaranteeing his return to Aiken within two months.

For the first time it was intimated today that the name of another person might be brought into the case.

"The only thing lacking in the evidence against Beach is knowledge of the identity of the man in the gray suit who ran from Beach's room on the Lyons yard on the night of February 26 last. This man is not the person people think he is. The man under general suspicion was at a dinner party at the rather tragic moment and I can prove it."

So said Special Agent Baughn of Atlanta, who obtained the astonishing evidence upon which the warrant for Mr. Beach's arrest, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill his wife, was sworn out. Baughn added:

"I believe we will have no difficulty in convicting Mr. Beach without having to resort to anything that would wreck more than one family. I think he has convicted himself by his own statements made from time to time."

At Claridge's Hotel in London Mr. Beach said he wished his identity to remain unknown until he had consulted Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador.

When approached by a reporter Beach said:

"Mrs. Beach is with me, as you see. That, alone, should silence all these absurd charges. Those people at Aiken want to stir up trouble."

No information could be gained as to the substance or result of Mr. Beach's conversation with the American Ambassador.

In New York, Beach's lawyers gave out a statement concluding with:

"We are authorized to say that Mr. Beach will return in ample time to meet the preposterous charge against him. In the meantime the public may be trusted to see the cruel absurdity of the whole proceeding."

"It is established beyond the remotest doubt; it is put beliof. He had seen things with his own eyes from the point on the street where the pulling was born from the fence. From there he got an unobstructed view into the moonlight into the laundry in the next yard.

"In a jealous rage he made his way toward the laundry, encountering Poni Hampton on the way and when she stood in his path he felled her, then pursued his wife, who, warned by the negroes' screams, ran through an opening in the fence. Once there Beach's earrings were found."

ONTARIO'S CREW AT PROVIDENCE

Thirty-nine members of the crew of the Merchants & Miners' steamer Ontario, which is burning on the Long Island shore near Montauk Point, arrived in Providence this afternoon. All showed effects of the strain of the fire. Few had complete suits of clothing. They lost practically all their personal possessions on the steamer.

The men came in charge of First Officer A. C. Harding, a Cape Codder; Second Officer Luther Thompson of Baltimore, Chief Engineer F. P. Dinser of Baltimore and Assistant Engineer Bernard Connors of Baltimore. They were cared for temporarily at the company's offices while arrangements were made to forward them to their homes.

Connors said he had been on duty in the engine room continuously for almost thirty-nine hours.

"At 1:15 Monday morning I answered the telephone and found it was the captain," said Connors. "He told me to man the firepump and keep it going. I worked there in the engine room until Tuesday forenoon. It was hot and the smoke was fearful.

"Credit should be given to the stokers. They sted at their posts like the brave men they are and in air that was so thick one could hardly breathe.

Second Officer Thomson said all the passengers were cool except one woman, who became excited, but was soon calmed.

Captain Bond reached New Bedford on the revenue cutter Acushnet at noon today, with the two sailors who were thought to be missing. The entire crew is now accounted for, according to the officials of the Merchants & Miners' line.

Captain Bond and the two seamen went to Providence, where they took charge of with the rest of the crew.

Connors, in reporting to the officers of the company at Providence, said the Ontario can be saved.

GAMBLING HOUSE TO BE A STEAM LAUNDRY

PROVIDENCE, April 10.—One of Rhode Island's most notorious gambling houses went under the hammer when "The Fort," otherwise known as the Macdeath Casino, was sold at public auction. The buyer announced his intention of converting the place into a steam laundry. The property, taxed for $6,000, was knocked down to "Abe" Abich for $2,220. A bidder against Abrich was Michael J. Slattery.

BODY IN FENWAY MAY BE T. C. FORD'S

The body of a man found on the bank of Muddy River, near Agassiz road, Fenway, today, was said by the police to be possibly that of Thomas C. Ford, whose last known home was at No. 256 Chestnut Hill road, Newton. The body is that of a man about thirty-three years old, five feet ten inches in height, weighing 175 pounds, of dark complexion, dark hair, smooth face and wearing black clothes. The body was taken to City Hospital morgue.

W. S. KENNEY FILES BANKRUPTCY PLEA

William S. Kenney of No. 106 Meridian street, East Boston, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy today with the clerk of the United States District Court, stating he has no occupation. He has liabilities of $16,922 and assets of $10.

METHODISTS TO TAKE UP DANCES

SPRINGFIELD, April 10.—The 116th New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which began today in this city, is going to tackle the problem of amusements which have been forbidden under a rule made when the conference was established. Under the rule the devout Methodist cannot do these things:

Go to dances.
Play games of chance.
Attend a theatre.
Go to the horse races.
Be a circus.
Patronize a dancing school.

These things are forbidden in one of the rules in the Methodist Book of Discipline, and the discussion expected in the present conference will be the first of a general nature in the Methodist church. It is claimed many Methodists have not adhered strictly to the rule, and that the church must recognize that certain of the things forbidden are generally indulged in by hundreds of church-goers and cannot be prohibited by a century-old rule of conduct.

The rule in the Book of Discipline reads:

"It is imprudent and un-Christian conduct to take part in dancing, playing at games of chance, attending theatres, horse races or circuses, going to dancing parties, or patronizing dancing schools, or taking such other amusements as are obviously of a misleading or questionable moral tendency."

The Southern New England Conference, which has just closed its session at Providence, was much strong opposition to the stringent rules of the Book of Discipline, and a majority of the delegates elected to the national conference are in favor of abolishing the clause.

The New England conference will be in session till Monday. It organized at 10 o'clock today with 300 delegates present and 200 more expected. Bishop William Burt of Zurich, Switzerland was elected chairman.

At 7:30 o'clock the conference sermon was delivered by the Rev. Lucius H. Bugbee, D. D., of Malden.

The remainder of the day was devoted to observance of the anniversary of the Deaconess Association. Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D., presided. Among the speakers was the Rev. Franklin Hamilton, chancellor of Boston University.

The Trip to California Under Special Care

"You feel like sorting out and tying together the memories of this trip and keeping them separate from all other trips." A woman recently said this after a pleasant experience on a Burlington Route Through Tourist Car Excursion party to California. She traveled alone but met many agreeable people on the car, which was in charge of a special conductor. This good natured official was a well-informed, courteous man, who went all the way through with the party, looking after everyone's comfort and attending to all the little details of the trip. Thus a woman or child in one of these parties can travel with perfect safety and freedom from care. If you would like to know more about the Burlington's comfortable and inexpensive personally conducted excursions, please write me a postal card. NIKISCH GREETS HIS OLD COMRADES WITH KISSES

In the conductor's room at Symphony Hall during the intermission of the London Symphony concert last night Arthur Nikisch met his old comrades of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The veterans of the orchestra, who played for him in the early nineties, crowded into the little room and for a few minutes there was nothing to be seen but flying arms, and little to be heard but resounding German kisses.

Nikisch took them all to his arms.

"Mr friends, my brothers. God bless you. Ah, it is good to see you after twenty years," he exclaimed.

Old Friends Now Composers.

Charles M. Loeffler, who has become a famous composer; Gus Strube, whose symphonies are now played everywhere; Joseph Hoffman, and Silvain Noack, surrounded him, and everybody talked at once.

"Master, you are not a day older," exclaimed Mr. Strube.

"Ah, how can you say so. It is twenty years. See my hair and beard are growing grey. And I also have become stout."

"You are youthful still," protested the players.

"But we are grandfathers," said Loeffler.

"If our heads are not gray they are bald," exclaimed Hoffman.

Nikisch knew them all. The great conductor called them by name as they came into the room and rushed to the embrace.

"After the concert we shall go to the restaurant, yes?" they demanded.

"Alas, we must take the midnight train to New York."

"We will have a game of poker," they urged.

Those games of poker of twenty years ago. I remember them yet. What a thing it is to be young and sit up all night with the cards. I would not dare do it now," laughed Nikisch.

Left Boston 18 Years Ago.

"It is a wonderful thing to come again to Boston," he continued. "When I have dreamed of coming back. When I went away in 1893 I said in a few years, at least, I shall return, if only to hear the orchestra; but such is the way of life. Never did I get a chance, and I am here now only for a day."

"We have followed your career," protested the players. "It has been glorious."

"I have not done so badly," replied Nikisch modestly. It was plain he was enjoying his ovation. Eighteen years ago he left Boston, a brilliant young conductor, who had made a fine record. He returned the most famous conductor in the world. Today Nikisch has no equal. He conducts the celebrated Gewandhaus Orchestra of Leipsic, and the Philharmonic of Berlin, and when possible the London Symphony. These three great orchestras are contented to divide his time.

So he sat upon the table in the conductor's room and contentedly received the congratulations, not only of his former players, but such Boston musicians as George W. Chadwick and Wallace Goodrich.

Then the wives of the Symphony men invaded the room. Mrs. Fiedler, Mrs. Anton Witek, wife of the concert master, and many others were presented before it was time to continue the concert.

TONE POEM FEATURE OF CONCERT BY THE NIKISCH ORCHESTRA

By FREDERICK JOHNS.

Arthur Nikisch and the London Symphony Orchestra gave a concert in Symphony Hall last night. Despite the great reputation of the conductor and the interesting fact of his former connection with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the audience was not very large. The balconies were crowded but the orchestra was not half filled.

Arthur Nikisch came to this city in 1889 and remained here until 1893. Since he left here he has had an astoundingly successful career abroad. Berlin, Hamburg, Leipsic and Budapest have hailed him as the greatest of conductors, and London has joined in the chorus of praise.

When he left this city he was slight of figure, full of vivacity and enthusiasm. Today he has grown stouter, he moves more sedately, his manner of leading an orchestra is without eccentricities. It is true that he leads without a score, but his freedom from the book does not induce him to spectacularities.

His hair is gray but abundant. His beard is closely cropped and iron gray. His eyes are bright and commanding as ever. He has ripened and become great.

When he leads he uses a white baton and conducts with his right hand alone except in climaxes when both hands come into action. Sometimes he seems to be doing calisthenics so sharp and abrupt are his arm movements.

Often he swings his right arm in a short circle. When he wishes a certain effect from a desk of strings or woodwinds he faces it and his eye compels.

Program Sale Not Popular.

The program was the same as that which he played in New York the previous night, Beethoven's Leonora No. 3, Brahms's first Symphony in A minor, Tchaikowsky's Francesca da Rimini, and the Tannhauser overture comprised the list.

A feature that drew unfavorable comment was the selling of souvenir programs at a quarter each to an audience which had paid as high as $5.00 for seats. This is an English custom which will never be popular here.

The London Symphony Orchestra has been foolishly advertised as the finest in the world. No orchestra so weak in brasses and woodwinds has any right to make such a claim.

Not only was the quality of tone from the horns and trombones unpleasant but the players made technical faults. The strings were of good quality and were more numerous than in American orchestras.

The four string choirs totaled sixty-six for the British orchestra against sixty-eight for the Boston Symphony. The brasses and woodwinds were correspondingly weaker.

Tone Poem Feature.

The feature of the whole program was the performance of Tchaikowsky's tone poem, "Francesca da Rimini." This amazing piece of descriptive music is interpreted with superb effect by the romantic Nikisch.

The furs of Hades, as seen by Dante, and the tempest of grief and melancholy as Francesca tells her tale of love and guilt, were painted in the music by a master hand.

The Brahms first symphony received a respectful and poetic performance and the Leonora overture was brilliantly performed. The Tannhauser overture was marred by horrible strident brasses and appalling noises in the percussion.

Nikisch will return to Boston for a matinee performance on April 27 when Tschaikowsky's Symphonie Pathetique will be performed.

Now Believe Snyder Suicide Miss Karn to Be Freed Soon

MARY S. KARN, KNOWN AS MRS. MAMIE SNYDER.

NEW YORK, April 10.—From all indications today the slaying of Walter J. Snyder, who was found dead in his apartment at No. 909 St. Nicholas avenue with four stab wounds in his body, inflicted by scissors, will go upon the police records of New York as a suicide.

It also seems evident that Miss Mary Karn, who lived with Snyder as his wife, and who is now being held on the charge of slaying him, will soon be released from the Tombs.

Since her arrest the accused woman has not shown the least fear or lack of confidence that her innocence would soon be established. Never has she deviated in the slightest from her original story—that Snyder jabbed the blades of a pair of eight-inch shears into his body while they were tussling in a spirit of fun in their room.

LODGERS FLEE FIRE IN BACK BAY

Mrs. N. L. Shea and six men and women lodgers were driven out in light attire from the top floor apartment at No. 64 Huntington avenue today, by a fire which started in a closet in Mrs. Shea's chamber.

Smoke filled the apartment rapidly and lodgers were forced to get out quickly. The firemen confined the flames to the closet, the chamber and the adjoining hall in the top floor. Mrs. Shea said that her personal loss on damaged wearing apparel and furnitures is $1,000, in addition to $75 in bills which were destroyed.

The cause of the fire is being investigated. Mrs. Shea was asleep when the fire started. She rushed the lodgers in pants of the hat in haste. The lodgers ran down into the lower hallways and were given shelter in the other apartments till the firemen put out the fire.

9 KILLED AS BUS PLUNGES 120 FEET

OPORTO, Portugal, April 10.—A motor bus crowded with tourists collided with another vehicle on a high cliff near here today and plunged 120 feet to the bottom of the abyss. Nine persons were killed and seven others seriously injured.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE

Of course, not every facial blemish can be removed by simple home treatment, but there are many common afflictions that yield quickly to proper care and attention. A true beautifier can be made by dissolving an original package of magatone in a half-pint witch hazel. Gently massage the face, neck and arms with this, and yellowness, dark and muddy patches, pimples, rough and red skin will be banished. It makes the skin smooth, soft, white and satiny and preserves the youthful charm of the face.

Superfluous hairs cause many women annoyance and embarrassment. These can be quickly and easily removed by applying delatone paste. Mix a little powdered delatone with enough water to cover the hairs; apply, and after two or three minutes' rub off, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone.

To go cool calling cold by dry shampooing the tissues of dust, dandruff and excess oil. Put the contents of a package of Java rice mit with a teaspoonful of Kirvis. Sprinkle a little on the hair and brush out thoroughly. If anything will make the hair grow, thrive, this treatment keeps the hair light, fluffy and beautiful, lustrous.

If you freckle, use cucumber juice. Get some from your druggist. Then freckles will disappear, and a few spots in any part of the body look pale and sickly. It is easy to use. Simply bruise a leaf and apply to every freckle. For a complexion suffering from more serious afflictions, such as blemishes, pimples and eruptions, get a package of magatone. Full directions for its use are given in each package.

'WIDOW' NOLAN OFFERS AUTO

The "Widow" Nolan announced today the offer of a prize of a $6,000 automobile to whichever one among his Harvard student pupils finishes highest this year in plane geometry.

He—the "Widow" is a he—is W. W. Nolan, tutor to rich men's sons at Harvard. He has tutored for years and years. He is tutoring now the sons of men whom he tutored twenty-five and thirty years ago. He coached the fathers to get through college. He will see to it that the sons likewise are qualified to go up against the dreaded examinations.

The "Widow" made a good selection in this automobile prize—just the thing to appeal to the sons of the idle rich, or the idle sons of the rich. He can, well afford it is said, to give a $6,000 prize. He is an expensive tutor. His fees are like those of a corporation lawyer or a plumber in a cold snap.

Once the "Widow" accepts a boy to "tutor," he coaches the youth thoroughly. He takes his classes on long tramps through the woods and makes friends with them. He is most democratic. He strolls around Harvard yard and victuals. A big, impressive man, usually with his pet bulldog lumbering along at his heels.

STABBED AT CARD GAME.

SECURES NEVADA DIVORCE FROM A SOMERVILLE MAN

RENO, Nev., April 10.—A divorce has been granted by Judge Moran to Mrs. Linda M. Moss from Frank A. Moss, a produce commission man of West Somerville, Mass., upon her allegations of extreme physical cruelty. She asked no alimony. Her five-year-old child is being adopted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newsome of West Somerville.

Mrs. Moss has worked as a manicure in various hotels here since last September and will depart for Boston this week.

MISS ELKINS BACK FROM PANAMA; IS STILL MISS ELKINS

NEW YORK, April 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Elkins, Miss Katherine Elkins and William P. Hitt have returned to New York from a trip in the Caribbean. They left New Orleans early in March to visit H. S. R. Hitt, American minister to Guatemala, and the Panama Canal, Frank Colon they went to Kingston, thence embarking on the Carrillo.

"Billy" Hitt is still a bachelor and Miss Elkins has not changed her name.

New Reduced Net Prices for users of United States Tires

CONSUMERS' PRICES

Plain Tread, Clincher, Quick Detachable or Dunlop

SIZE	CASING	TUBE
32 x 3½	$21.70	$4.65
34 x 4	33.60	6.40
36 x 4	35.80	6.70
36 x 4½	45.20	8.30
36 x 5	55.50	9.70

This price reduction on America's leading brand of tires is much more significant than may appear on the surface.

The motorist could well afford to pay the former prices for tires made as only United States Tires are made. For our well known method of combining the best features of four famous brands in one superior grade of tire practically puts United States Tires in a class by themselves.

Therefore, the important feature of this announcement is not the mere price reduction on tires but the price reduction on tires of the United States kind.

Here are three immensely important facts about United States Tires

The First Fact

United States Tires are made by a co-operative method that is unique in automobile tire manufacturing.

In four of the largest and best equipped tire factories in the world four corps of tire specialists are working as a unit to give to the motorist, in United States Tires, the highest grade tire their combined skill can produce.

It is precisely as if the motorist, desiring an ideal tire, should contract with four leading tire manufacturers to build a tire that would actually combine every element of strength and every secret of manufacture known to the four companies.

The Second Fact

You can buy United States Tires in any style you prefer — Dunlop (straight side), Quick Detachable and Clincher. Four different treads—Plain, Bailey, Nobby, and Chain.

If you are convinced that a certain style of fastening or tread can best meet your requirements, you can not only get it in a United States tire, but — what is far more important — you can get it in a tire which is made as only United States Tires are made.

Style is a matter of fancy; but satisfactory service is a matter of quality.

The Third Fact

It costs no more to buy these four-factory-method tires than you are asked to pay for other kinds.

This opportunity to secure extra value without extra cost will appeal to motorists who are wedded to no other tire but the most economical tire it is possible to buy.

There is every reason why

United States Tires

should be your positive choice for the season of 1912.

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

BY A SPECIALIST.

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair, and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: Six ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Larone de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing a few hours you are ready to use. Apply night and morning, rubbing well into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish, I recommend and will send you, full of 75-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. While this combination is not a dye, it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

CAUTION: Do not apply where skin is not desired and be sure to avoid toxic containing poisonous wood alcohol.

Before publishing we presented this prescription to Rieger-James Co., this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patrons, who report most astonishing results from its use.

OPPOSE RILEY BALLOT SCHEME

Strong opposition developed at the hearing before the State Ballot Law Commission today to the petition of Chairman Thomas P. Riley of the Democratic State Committee asking that in the preparation of the ballots for the coming primary election a circle be placed above each of the groups of delegate and alternate candidates, and that a cross placed in the circle by a voter be considered as a vote for the entire group which it precedes.

Frank J. Donahue, James H. Vahey, George Fred Williams and John A. Keliher, who are running for delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention in opposition to the Democratic State Committee slate, declared such an arrangement would be unfair to independent candidates. Arthur D. Hill, representing the Roosevelt forces, also opposed the petition.

Mr. Donahue maintained the Ballot Law Commission has no jurisdiction over the preparation of ballots and that its jurisdiction is confined by law to the preparation of nominating papers only. He therefore contended that the matter should go before the Secretary of State. His contention was supported by the others.

Ex-Representative David B. Shaw of Charlestown, who represented Chairman Riley, argued that the commission had jurisdiction over the matter. The commission promised a decision late this afternoon.

POSTMASTERS HERE FOR CONVENTION

Postmasters from all over New England attended the opening session of the Postmasters' Association's annual convention today at the American House. First Assistant Postmaster-General Charles P. Grandfield was the guest of honor. President A. M. Bearse of Middleboro presided. Postmaster Mansfield of the Boston postal district spoke on efficiency and discipline in postoffices. Other topics discussed at the session were "The postal savings bank, how it can be advertised and improved" and Substitute carriers, and what can be done to make the service more attractive."

ELECT OFFICERS AT WINCHESTER CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Winchester Boat Club the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Charles A. Gleason; vice-president, James H. Gerlach; secretary, T. Price Wilson; treasurer, G. Dwight Colton; fleet captain, F. H. Gerlach; directors, Vincent Farnsworth, S. F. Herron, Preston E. Currey, D. F. Biddle, Herman D. Murphy, Fred M. Betts, Charles F. Keaney and George B. Smith.

PROFESSOR SAYS FIXED STARS MOVE

LONDON, April 10.—Herbert Hall Turner, professor of astronomy at Oxford University, in an article in the new scientific quarterly, expresses the opinion that fixed stars are constantly and swiftly moving. The older a star is, he says, the quicker it moves.

Young stars are perhaps not subject to gravitation at all, and do not acquire the properties of "matter" until later in life.

POSLAM IS WITHOUT EQUAL FOR ECZEMA

Untold embarrassment and torture from eczema—that distressing and disfiguring malady—may be avoided by the prompt use of the one efficient, modern, healing remedy, Poslam.

Would End "Peacock" Graduation Parade

Edward McBride Urges Brockton High School Pupils to Adopt a Uniform Dress for Commencement.

BROCKTON, April 10.—Urging that a stop be put to the "Peacock parade" of Commencement Day, Edward McBride, in a talk to the senior class in the high school, advocated a complete reform in regard to graduation dress and customs and urged the students to set an example for future graduations, whereby all of the students could be on the same level, so far as dress is concerned.

He stated that statistics showed that in the schools of the East the graduation expenses for girls are $25 and for boys $25. Many of the girls have special dresses for the graduation week exercises, and he advocated a uniform dress for all, the cap and gown. He concluded:

"It is time to put a stop to the peacock parade." The true spirit of graduating is lessened under such conditions. This is not the spirit of democracy which should exist in public school graduations."

BURNING MAN SAVED BY FELLOW-LODGER

John J. Powers owes his life to a fellow-lodger, also dragged him, unconscious and terribly burned, from his burning room at No. 127 Dover street, South End. Powers is at the City Hospital in deeply burned about the face and neck. Bernard Donahue, who lodges across the hall from Powers, saw flames and smoke. He dragged Powers into the hall and beat out the flames which enveloped him.

Engagement to Roland MacDonald of Boston, Tufts Graduate, Surprises Their Friends.

BROCKTON, April 10—At a party given by her chum, Miss Hazel Murdoch Turner of Highland terrace today, the engagement of Miss Mabel Mathewson Smith, one of the most charming young women in the city, to Roland Jackson MacDonald of Boston was announced.

While intimate friends were aware that the young people were friendly, the announcement came as a great surprise. The date for the wedding has been set for April 18 at the Church of the Unity, and will be solemnized by Rev. Dudley Hays Ferrell, the pastor. Only intimate friends of the young people will be present.

Miss Smith is numbered among the city's prettiest and most popular girls. She has been a great favorite here, where she has resided a number of years; in Hingham and in Providence. She is a member of the Tau Times One Club, the Unity Guild. She has attended Brockton High and Lasell Seminary.

Mr. McDonald resides at Tech Chambers, Boston, is a graduate of Tufts and a member of the Masons.

PHONE GIRLS TO MAKE DEMANDS

Telephone Operators' Sub-Local No. 1 of Electrical Workers' Union No. 103 of Boston, that is the name of the new union phone girls just organized to secure proper working conditions.

Nearly 350 operators in the employ of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company assembled in Wells Memorial Hall to perfect organization and choose officers.

There were meetings of the telephone girls at the headquarters of the Women's Trade Union League, No. 7 Warrenton street, to accomodate the girls employed on the different shifts.

Arrangements will be made at once for an open mass meeting of all the telephone girls of the different exchanges in the Greater Boston district.

Later the union will formulate a petition to the management of the telephone company asking a general betterment of working conditions.

NEVER SUSPECTED KIDNEY TROUBLE—GAINED FIFTY POUNDS IN WEIGHT.

Some time ago I was suffering from what I supposed was rheumatism. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I ran down in weight from 195 to 145 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recommended for kidney trouble, but I never had any idea that my kidneys were affected. I thought I would try a fifty-cent bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the fifty-cent bottle and then bought three more dollar bottles, and they completely cured me. I have gone back to my original weight—195 pounds—and I am a thorough advocate of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I believe it to be a remarkable preparation for what it is recommended to do.

WILLIAM H. PARTCH,

HUNT WOMAN'S BODY AT LAKE

WORCESTER, April 10.—The Worcester police today searched the shores of Lake Quinsigamond in an effort to clear up the mystery of the woman's handbag found there.

The handbag is supposed to be the property of a Mrs. Prince Edwin Robbins of Grafton, which place she left June 10, 1910, and went to Worcester, where she was employed as a housekeeper till last September.

The bag was found by a boy and turned over to the police. In it was found about a dozen letters from the woman's son in Atlanta, Ga., and one from a woman in Wianecket, requesting her to return there to work.

No trace of the woman's husband could be found in Grafton, or of her in Worcester, and it is feared she came to Worcester, went to the lake and took her life.

ENDS CATARRH

Sprays, Douches, Snuffs and Ointments, Won't Kill the Persistent Catarrh Germs

Hyomei, the Antiseptic Air, Will

When you can go to any drug store in any civilized community on earth and buy for only $1.00 a remedy that will quickly rid you of hawking, spitting and snuffling, why do you allow the devilish germs of catarrh to undermine your health and destroy your efficiency?

Quit sprays and douches. Liquid cannot penetrate into the nooks, folds and crevices of the irregular mucous membrane. Neither can it get into the bronchial tubes that lead to the lungs and where germs thrive and multiply.

If you believe that liquids reach the air tubes, try to swallow a little water the "wrong way." The test will effectually demonstrate to you the idle theory that sprays and douches can cure catarrh.

HYOMEI is a pleasant antiseptic air which, when breathed, penetrates into the folds and crevices of the sore, germ-infested membrane and also goes deep into the air cells of the lungs, killing all germs.

A HYOMEI outfit costs $1.00. Extra bottles of HYOMEI, if needed, 50 cents.

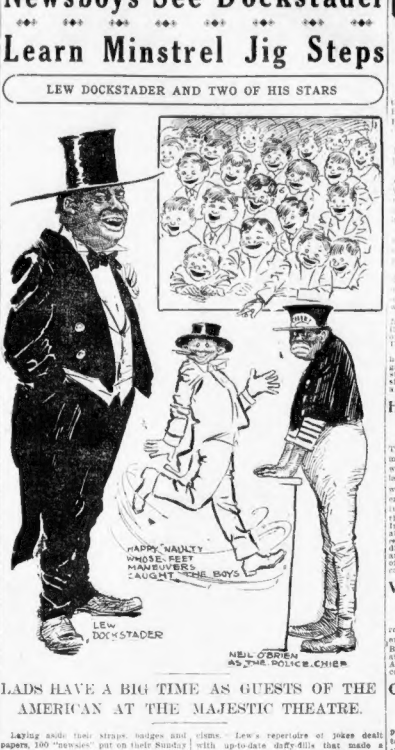
Newsboys See Dockstader Learn Minstrel Jig Steps

LEW DOCKSTADER AND TWO OF HIS STARS



LADS HAVE A BIG TIME AS GUESTS OF THE AMERICAN AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE.

Laying aside their straps, badges and papers, 100 "newsies" put on their Sunday best last night and attended the performance of Lew Dockstader and his merry minstrel band at the Majestic theatre as guests of the Boston AMERICAN.

They enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content and went home refreshed in mind, fortified with jokes, jolted cheeks and sore sides from indulging in hair-splitting "knocks and grinds" on national and local celebrities.

The house was crowded and when the curtain arose it showed a circle of black-faced minstrel men, which included the "newsies" and brought forth great applause.

"Lew" Copeland's song starts a resounding chord in the hearts of the youngsters. The song "Everybody's Doing It," as sung by Mr. Copeland certainly made a hit with them, especially when he yelled "It's a Bear! It's a Bear!" The boys caught this part of the refrain and forced a repetition several times, much to the amusement of the audience.

"Happy" Naulty followed Copeland with a song entitled "My Honey Rose" and gave an exhibition of his prowess as a dancer, showing all the latest steps.

His agiles, grimaces and floundering and other humorisms with his feet provoked laughter and impelled the "boys" to applaud vigorously.

"Slim" said Isadore Rubinovich, "the hands down at not Orlando Point will be trying Copeland's steps with their pedals tomorrow. He's like a chick on a hot plate, he's moving fast."

"All Aboard for Blanket Bay," a mother's lullaby by Frank Farron, and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," song by William J. Thompson, were very enthusiastically received by the "newsies." As "Pinky" Morse, who sells papers down around the Old State House expressed it, "the songs gave him a weep in the throat and sends the lump up in his throat."

Next came Neil O'Brien. His appearance on the stage was the signal for a real outburst. The "newsies" had heard of Neil as a character artist and were eager to see him.

Pete Dezell, the interlocutor, asked O'Brien a number of peculiar and puzzling questions. O'Brien's answers were bubbling over with wit and humor and grew forth from the audience, including the "newsies," tears of joyous hilarity.

Master Charles Lee and Master Ronald Romain, two clever singers, next oblized, in turn, and were followed by Lew Dockstader. The latter's song ally was "Father Was a Judge," which was replete with witticisms. Lew's repertoire of jokes dealt with up-to-date subjects that made a tremendous hit with the "newsies."

"Lincoln's College Flag" wound up the first part. The newsies clapped their hands with glee at this feature introduced the entire company in a patriotic sketch.

At this juncture the "newsies" were given a chance to catch their breath after their side-splitting laughter. All agreed that Lew Dockstader and his minstrel men were all right.

Part two opened with the laughable farce "Henderson's Ringery," introducing some clever character acting. Lee Copeland presided at the piano and the "darkies and their gals" sat around the elevated platform.

Copeland introduced his song, "Next Week Sometime, But Not Now," interspersing it with facial manoeuvres that brought forward giggles from all parts of the house.

Then there was some more singing and dancing. This was followed by the appearance of Lew Dockstader, who told a number of humorous stories. He posed as the Democratic Fifth Congressional Mayor Fitzgerald, Martin Lomasney, Representative Hennessy of East Boston, and the "elderly recorder" given the citizens at the Republican High School Hall at the "annual town meeting." He said he hoped Maurice Fitzgerald would have the fire drawn out of the pipes by the next meeting.

MAY SPEED FULL-SIZED MAIL POUCH THROUGH NEW TUBES

A regulation mail sack will be propelled through pneumatic tubes at the rate of thirty miles an hour in Boston, if future improvements for this postal district outlined by Charles P. Garfield, first assistant postmaster-general, now here, materialize. The new tube, which is twenty-four inches in size, is being experimented with in Washington, between the Congress office building and the Capitol.

Mr. Garfield is her to attend today's meeting of the postmasters of New England of the American House. Postmaster Mansfield will address the gathering on "Efficiency in Postoffices."

At the banquet tonight Congressman Robert O. Harris, Lawrence Gotherman, postoffice inspector in charge at Boston, and Gov. J. Hum. Benton, assistant United States District Attorney, will be the guests

CABINET LIKES HOME RULE BILL

LONDON, April 10.—The final draft of the Irish home rule bill, which will be introduced in Parliament tomorrow by Premier Asquith, was submitted to the cabinet today and approved.

Nothing that has come out of Belfast or but can come will stop the coming of the bill.

Dispatches from the seat of trouble on condition telling of the reception accorded Andrew Bonar Law, the head and front of the anti-home rule movement, have not in the least disturbed the government in its announced program.

The Nationalists are in perfect accord with the government, and are entirely satisfied with the provisions for Irish government as contained in the bill.

In government circles as well as in Nationalist consultations, the Belfast outburst is looked upon as the powder flash of a futile movement, which left more still more itself out.

The government has expected the Belfast demonstration, and the pointed ill of its strength by securing perfect freedom of speech without any opposition for the Unionist speakers.

Advices received by the Nationalists here report the Nationalist movement gaining supporters, even in Belfast, the stronghold of the opposition. On all sides here some rule is looked upon as a certainty.

HONDURAN BANDITS KIDNAP 7 WOMEN

BELIZE, British Honduras, April 10.—The Cayo district, bordering on the Guatemalan frontier, has been terrorized by the wife-seeking raids of a band of fifty outlaws who have already kidnaped seven women.

A few days ago the captured women attempted to escape. They were recaptured, and were warned that a repetition of the attempt would result in instant death. In several letters which they have been able to send the women say they are treated well. Although they have traces of Indian blood, the women of the Cayo section are largely of Spanish descent, and most of them are possessed of rudimentary educations.

FLOOD COVERS 40 TOWNSHIPS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—The crest of the flood has passed this city. The water has receded nearly four inches since yesterday, leaving suffering and devastation in its wake. The break in the main levee late yesterday, a short distance north of Golden Lake, Ark., is believed to be the concluding chapter in the chain of catastrophes which have accompanied the flood. As a result of this break more than forty townships are submerged this morning. Five towns are under water from five to ten feet, as follows: Marked Tree, 1,200 inhabitants; Wilson, 500; Big Lake, 200; Beckerville, 300; Tyronza, 150.

WOULD WIPE OUT STATE POLICE FORCE

The abolition of the State police force as now constituted is contemplated by a bill reported by the Committee on Labor. It provides for the appointment of a commission on labor comprised of five members and leaves Chief Whitney's department simply the functions of a detective bureau, all of the powers of inspection of factories and boilers being taken away.

The new bill calls for a board of commissioners, consisting of an employer, a sanitary engineer and a woman.

They are to name a commission of labor to enforce the rules made by the board.

WILL CLOSE PLANT IF WORKMEN STRIKE

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 10.—A. M. White, superintendent of the local plant of the American Locomotive Company, told the three hundred and fifty employes that if they struck the plant would be closed indefinitely. For several weeks there has been talk of a strike, the men claiming that their wages are not as high as those paid in other plants of the company. White said that the plant was being conducted without profit to give work to the men. The employes are not unionized.

MISS ROOSEVELT TO FIGHT TRAWLS

GLOUCESTER, April 10.—Miss Ethel Roosevelt of Oyster Bay and Miss Gladys Deacon of Boston will become active members of the Gloucester Anti-Beam Trawling committee that is waging war on the steam trawlers and hope to secure favorable legislation from Congress that will eradicate these craft from the fishing banks and prohibit the marketing of their catches in American ports.

Miss Roosevelt and Miss Deacon met Captain Henry Atwood, chairman of the local committee and Captain Carl C. Young at the reception given to the Master Mariners Association at the house of A. Platt Andrew on Eastern Point.

The young women kept the captains busy for nearly two hours answering questions about the fishermen, and at the conclusion were thoroughly convinced that unless some action was taken against the beam and otter trawler the Cape Ann fishermen would be a thing of the past. At their request they will be elected members of the committee.

'Sumurun' Story From Arabian Nights Pantomime at Shubert Gay Spectacle

Actors in Wordless Play Hold Audience Breathless Through Nine Beautiful Scenes.

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

If you still remember your Arabian Nights, if you still love the fantastic romances that once seemed so wonderful—of course that was before the modern trend of the theatre put such notions out of your head—you will find an evening of positive joy with "Sumurun" at the Shubert.

BEAUTIFUL DANCING SLAVE AND HER ADORERS

Let me explain first that "Sumurun" is really not a play, but an entertainment, an evening of adventure with strange people who do strange things. And it is wordless.

But you never missed the spoken word, for every detail of Nur-al-din's astounding adventures were made as clear as words themselves. The splendid acting of Max Reinhardt's players from Berlin gave you even more than you bargained for in graphic, though silent, descriptions.

Pantomime has never fixed itself very firmly upon the American playgoer. He has been trained for the blunt, direct things of the drama rather than the subtle and the artistic. The American temperament is not at all cordial to pantomime; and as a series of wordless adventures, "Sumurun" must be classed as pantomime. But here, at least, was an entertainment that upset your old notion that pantomime is dull and uninteresting.

Like a series of wonderful and clear pictures, the nine scenes of "Sumurun" passed before you and not one of them lost its grip upon your interest. It was entertainment for everybody—merry entertainment. It would be impossible to follow Nur-al-din from his Oriental shop to the palace of the Sheik, whose favorite wife smiled sweetly on the young merchant.

As performed by Professor Reinhardt's German players, the adventures were thrilling, but even the dangers that threatened Nur-al-din were light and airy. The audience last night was in no more serious mood than the players themselves, and both sides of the footlights plunged into terms of intimacy at the rise of the curtain.

The Flowery Way, over which the performers traveled frequently, helped put everybody on a friendly footing, although it robbed the theatre of many seats that might have been sold. But the sacrifice in seats was worth the elbow to elbow spirit that seized the audience.

Of the strange characters that wandered with Nur-al-din on his adventures, the most attractive perhaps was the Beautiful Slave of the Fatal Enchantment, which means that she was a fetching, dark-skinned young woman who led men on to destruction with seductive eyes and an altogether bewitching manner of dancing. As played by Fraulein Leopoldine Konstantin, this slave girl was perhaps the most attractive figure on the stage. Her lithe body spoke plainer than any words that might have been put into her lips.

Fraulein Camilla Eibenschutz was ample as Sumurun, and entirely worthy of Nur-al-din's admiration. The latter, played by Fritz Feher, was all that could be expected of a young man whose mind ran to another man's wife. But in the wordless language of "Sumurun" this was a severely proper, even if dangerous style of behavior.

Other characters most likely to be remembered, were the Hunchback, by Nicolas Grinoff, and the old Sheik, by Paul Conrad, both of which stood out conspicuously. The strictly comedy side of the evening was in safe hands with Ernst Matray and Herr Nicol, who qualified from the start.

Many others in the long cast would be mentioned, but it is not safe to tempt fate and the linotypes with their names.

Incidental music, characteristic of the scenes and characters in the entertainment, kept an overgrown orchestra at incessant labor.

"Sumurun," though done without words, lost none of its real charm by the omission. Nor was it an entertainment for the few who lean to the intellectual side of the stage. It was a weird series of adventures by queer people, and with qualities of entertainment that will satisfy everybody.

BIG AUTO RACE NOW ASSURED

By J. C. KERRISON.

All doubts as regards the holding of the 500-mile road race on the Indianapolis Speedway, May 30 have been set aside in a recent communication from the management, which states explicitly that under no conditions other than excessive bad weather will the contest be postponed. Should the weather prove unfavorable the race will be held on June 1 or the next day.

It is further stated that twenty-five entries have been guaranteed for the race and one-third of the seats at the track have already been disposed of.

The fact that up to date but eighteen entries are entered does not in any way indicate that this will be the sum total of the entry-list, as there is every reason to believe that the guaranteed twenty-five will be exceeded.

* * *

Harry Grant, twice winner of the Vanderbilt race, has not yet made up his mind as to whether he will compete in the Indianapolis event. He expects to reach a decision within the next three or four days, and will, if he decides to enter the contest, go West within the next two weeks to prepare for the same.

Advertising Manager J. A. Thorson of the Lion Motor Car Company of Adrian, Mich., is spending a few days in this city visiting the Whitney-Barney Company, the local agents, and getting an insight into New England affairs.

Mr. Thorson says that he finds conditions throughout the country most satisfactory, and is confident that 1912 will be a banner year in the industry.

The Roads Commission committee members of the National House of Representatives, are today giving a hearing on the Underwood resolution, which provides for the naming of a joint committee of Congress to consider Federal participation in road building.

The committee is authorized and directed to report all infonation obtained from such investigation, together with recommendations as to the advisability of maintenance and building of post roads and national highways in the United States, and to make recommendations as to the proper legislation to be enacted by the Congress.

Since measures emanating from the Rules Committee of the House invariably receive prompt attention, it is believed that the good roads resolution will be favored with a report soon after the hearing.

UNABLE TO REACH M'KINLEY'S SUMMIT

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, via Asbcroft, B. C., April 10.—The Fairbanks Times Mt. McKinley expedition, which left here February 1, returned last night, having been unsuccessful in their attempt to scale the mountain. The party succeeded in attaining an elevation of 16,000 feet on the north side of the mountain, east of Peter glacier. Further progress was barred by precipitous ice cliffs and lack of supplies, and the lateness of the season made it impracticable to renew the attempt by another route.

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

YALE MAN CHARGED WITH FORGING CHECKS

NEW HAVEN, Ct., April 10.—W. I. Howard, a former student at Yale Sheffield Scientific School, is held here under $1,000 bonds charged with passing forged checks for $35, $50 and $100 respectively on the Fifth Avenue Bank of New York. The name of Theodosh Dean, a Yale Law School student, and the names of two indorsers, were forged to the checks. Howard had just returned from New York when he was arrested. He is the son of a boarding house proprietor of this city.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH A HARMLESS REMEDY RESTORES COLOR

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which unfortunately are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hair, however handsome it may be, makes a person look old. We all know the advantages of being young. Aside from the good impression a youthful appearance makes on others, simply knowing that you are "looking fit" gives one courage to undertake and accomplish things. So why suffer the handicap of looking old on account of gray hairs, when a simple remedy will give your gray hair youthful color and beauty in a few days' time?

Most people know that common garden sage acts as a color restorer and scalp tonic as well. Our grandmothers used a "Sage Tea" for keeping their hair dark, soft and luxuriant. In Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy we have an ideal preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak hair that is split at the ends or constantly coming out. A few applications of this valuable remedy will bring back the color, and in a short time it will remove every trace of dandruff and greatly improve the growth and appearance of the hair.

Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' treatment. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

Don't Let Catarrh Get The Best of You!

If you have catarrh and are neglecting it—you are doing a great wrong to yourself. In time it will undermine your whole constitution. You cannot begin too soon the work of shaking it off. Doesn't require any great effort. Begin today.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Has a curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" overcomes catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs, will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

"I Feel Like a New Woman"

MRS. RENI BLAKE, of Port Dover, Ont., Box 36, writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from local trouble, catarrh, indigestion, female troubles, bloating, constipation and nervousness at times I would be in bed, too ashamed to be up again. Was under many different doctors' care and would get better for a little while, then I would go down with chronic inflammation all through me. For nineteen years I had this trouble. I tried The Peoples Common Sense Medical Adviser of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and have used five bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now able to do my work and walk with pleasure. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything around me and thank God for letting me live long enough to find something that made me well again."

World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

BRUSSO BEATEN BY CONNOLLY

NEW BEDFORD, April 10.—Johnny Connolly, the Scotch boxer, won in decisive fashion over Noah Brusso of Attleboro in their fight before the New Bedford Athletic Club.

The fight went the entire twelve rounds and Connolly had a clean advantage in most of them.

In the preliminary bouts Young Dias defeated Young Bowman, whose wrist was broken in the fourth round, and Young Clark of Fall River bested Young Lavoie of this city in eight rounds.

BOXING RESULTS.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Referee Bill Brown stopped the main bout at Brown's Gymnasium between Miss Glove of Boston and Charley Victor of Jersey City in the sixth round of what was scheduled to be ten rounds, to save the latter from further punishment.

* * *

NEW YORK, April 10.—Bob Moha of Milwaukee outpointed Freddie Hicks of Detroit in a small martin in a ten-round bout at the Madison A. C. Steve Kennedy of Lawrence again showed his prowess in one of the preceding bouts, defeating Del Rosso of Canada. Kennedy floored Horton in the second round with a short left to the body.

* * *

BALTIMORE, April 10.—Kid Williams, Baltimore's aspirant for Johnny Ertle's crown, was given the decision over Johnny Daly of New York in the fifteen-round bout before the Eureka A. A. here.

* * *

ATLANTA, Ga., April 10.—Jimmy Perry of Pittsburg was awarded the decision over Clarence Kaufish of St. Joseph in a ten-round bout which went the limit at the Gate City A. A.

* * *

NEW YORK, April 10.—"Fighting" Joe Gans made an unanimous debut as a professional boxer at the East End A. C. of Brooklyn. Jack Hurley of this city knocked him out after a minute of fighting in the first round.

* * *

NEW YORK, April 10.—In the main bout of ten rounds before the Linda A. C. of Brooklyn, George Alger of Boston and Johnny Dohan of Brooklyn fought a slashing draw. There was little to choose from at the final gong.

* * *

Sox Off to Meet Highlanders

Boston to Show First in New York

By H. B. SCHULTZ.

HARLEIGH & SCHULTZ

GARLAND STAHL'S bunch of pennant hopes dug out of Boston today soon after Jonathan G. Kling's lads came in from the South. Stahl took his gang over to New York to play the Highlanders, which looks like a sure thing, since no less an authority than Harry Wolverton says his boys are off their feed just now. Stahl will toss his lid into the diamond at Frank Farrell's recreation grounds tomorrow afternoon and will declare himself for the American League bunting.

SOX COME BACK APRIL 18.

He and his hired men will hang around for a week picking up stray ball games until April 18, when they will come back to the big town and open Fenway Park to the American League public.

They don't consider yesterday's pastime with Harvard as a real opening. It was a baseball game, sure enough, but Mr. Mangini did not have his real peanuts, labeled with Mr. Ban Johnson's rubber stamp, every one of them, on hand; there was no official umpire behind the plate to say that "Mr. Mu-m-p-t-d-p-o-m is now pitching for Boston," so it wasn't a genuine opening

Hageman Has Big Day.

The opener with the college boys across the river was somewhat of a frost as far as the weather was concerned, but outside of that everything was fine, and the 3,000 faithful fans who turned out to see the new park and welcome home the Red Sox were well satisfied with their afternoon.

Casey Hageman, the Denver recruit, was the big star of the day. He not only held the Crimson batsmen down, but won his own game by batting in both runs scored and, taken it all, he secured for himself a warm spot in the hearts of both fans and managers.

The work of the Harvard boys was very good, and the game they put up was far above that shown by many of the big league teams encountered during the spring training trips.

The most of the regulars were in the Red Sox lineup, with the exception of Wagner, whose place at short was well taken care of by Krug, and the battery.

Calls Off Worcester Game.

A game was scheduled with the Worcester club of the New England League, but Manager Jake Stahl decided to call it off. Stahl and President McAleer felt that the game with Jesse Burkett's team would not benefit the players any.

Joe Wood will be the pitcher to oppose the Highlanders in the opening game, with Nunamaker behind the bat. Heinie Wagner will play short stop, otherwise the team will be the same as that which played Harvard yesterday.

Hugh Bedient, Larry Pape, Dutch Leonard, the pitchers, and Cady, the catcher, will remain at home. They will work out each day at Fenway Park until the club returns for the opening game in this city.

ASSIGN UMPIRES FOR OPENING GAMES

CHICAGO, April 10.—President Ban Johnson of the American League has announced the assignment of umpires for the opening games tomorrow. Evans and Egan are paired for White Sox park, Chicago; Perrine and Dineen for Cleveland; Connolly and Hart for New York; and O'Loughlin and Westervelt for Philadelphia. Sheridan received no assignment for the opening games.

Silva Takes Fast Marathon, Try-Out

Joe Silva, one of the local entries for the B. A. A. Marathon, is one of the first to cover the Ashland to Boston course as a practice run and his time is given out as 2h. 34m. 50 3-5s.

The performance was noteworthy as a strong wind at times blew full in Silva's face and light snow and rain fell.

Silva is a clever three and five-mile runner, but hardly fast enough to earn a place on the American team in those events. As a result, he has prepared himself for the Back Bay club's cassade, and expects to win recognition which will earn him a trip to Stockholm in June.

The first of the visiting runners has arrived. Lifford, of the Pittsburg Athletic Club, has located at Columbia Hotel, Ashland.

YACHTSMEN BUILD NEW 21-FOOTERS

BUZZARDS BAY, April 10.—Interest centres this season at the Beverly Yacht Club at Pocasset, across the bay, on the twenty-one-foot class in the one designs W. B. C. Eustis, the owner of Scraggy Neck and a yachtsman of prominence, is having a new twenty-one-footer built at Bigelow's at Monument Beach, and the "shippers" are wondering what she will be like. Mr. Eustis is the owner of the Barnacle, the best heavy weather boat in the fleet, and also the Scallop, a fine fair weather craft. It is speculated that the new boat will have the staying qualities of the Barnacle and the graceful lines of the Scallop. There will be some lively jockeying in all cases as the regattas of the club this season, as the sport.

CITY LEAGUE IS NEARING CLOSE

One week from today the City Bowling League will close its season. The fight for first place now stands between two teams, namely, Carruth and Murray & Irwin. Although the former has a lead of one point, there is much doubt as to which one of the two teams will get first place.

Neither Carruth nor Murray & Irwin will meet hard teams tonight, but tailenders often prove troublesome. Murray & Irwin will roll Hayward and Carruth will invade the Chauncy camp.

It is not very often that Hayward wins a match, but when it does it is generally by a high score. Murray & Irwin has shown its mettle at and away from home this year, and if the Hayward team wins a point or two the Hunker will be flying pretty high.

Chauncy is a team that is to be feared and may give Carruth a tough battle for the honors. When Bill Beatty's "Dustbusters" are going good no team can stop them and it is safe to say that Carruth will not slip anything over on the home team in such a tight pinch.

Both matches are sure to be largely attended. There is plenty of interest among the "fans" to draw large crowds and the managers are sure to have their hands full.

Boylston, which is now considered out of the race, will be pitted against the Elite team tonight and Adams Square will be the attraction at the McCarthy alleys.

MIDDLEBORO TEAM HAS STRONG ROSTER

MIDDLEBORO, April 10.—The local fans will be given plenty of fast baseball this year from the team that last year played as the K. L. Childs team. This year a large number of last year's team will appear, with a strong reinforcement of other players who have the speed. The battery will be the same as last year, with Bellmont, the clever backstop, and Clark will do the twirling. Last year he did some fine work, and had many of the semi-professional teams down to a few hits. Dorman, the star batter, will also be with the team, and Bucker, formerly of the Cosby College baseball nine, will play. This team observes games at Middleboro with good amateur or semi-professional teams. Teams that desire a reasonable guarantee and who will play at Middleboro on Saturday afternoons address Harry Belmont, No. 84 Oak street, Middleboro, Mass.

BIG OFFER TO McFARLAND.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Packy McFarland has received an offer of a $10,000 guaranty to fight Matt Wells, British lightweight champion, at Madison Square Garden, New York, April 22. Harry Pepper, representing a New York club, wired McFarland the offer. McFarland has the privilege of accepting the cash guaranty or taking 25 percent of the gate and 25 percent of the moving picture receipts.

Pilgrims Squad Arrives Home All Ready for Opener Tomorrow

By L. R. MURDOCH.
Sporting Editor American.

L. R. MURDOCH

JOHNNY KLING'S Pilgrims blew into Boston at 7 o'clock this morning after taking an 8 to 2 fall out of the Princeton collegians as a wind-up of their 4,000-mile rain and flood tour of the Eastern and Southern United States of America. They landed at the South Station and hiked immediately to the Hotel Oxford, where they established headquarters for the present. The Pilgrims won all but three of their encounters on the road, thus beating the record of most of the big league teams which trained in the South this year.

TEAM RICH IN INSIDE BASEBALL.

They lost to Buffalo of the International League by a 2-0 score at Athens, Ga., and split even in two games since with Richmond and Washington. And from that they came home with a clean slate.

They were glad to land in Boston because the South, at best, is an unwelcome territory to those used to modern food and health ideas, and Southern travel is tedious.

Some of them came in out of condition because of three troubles, principally "Doc" Miller, "Vin" Campbell and Eddie McDonald. But a few days in civilized territory ought to put the whole team in shape to play gilt-edged baseball.

The team landed much richer in "inside baseball" knowledge. "Nolay John" Kling tried to train them in all departments of baseball, but bad weather and other adverse circumstances kept them from the training they needed.

They did not have half enough batting practice, but Kling's men are a bunch of natural hitters, and he believes they will have their batting eyes again in a little while.

In this one department, they were the terrors of the National League last year, ball.

So it stands to reason that they ought to come back.

When they went away last March, they did lack "inside baseball" intelligence. Kling has been training them every day, and the improvement has been noticeable.

Many of the men, while something of good ball players in the rough, lacked knowledge of some of the most essential rudiments of baseball, and Kling has had a difficult job teaching them.

The team left Boston on the night of March 4, and went to Augusta, Ga., for early conditioning. Rain and frost frequently interfered with the work, and they managed to play not more than a half dozen games before leaving for the North, March 28.

The bunch consisted of Kling, Barry, and Lewis, catchers; Hogg, Dickson, Mattern and Brown, pitchers; Hauser, Sweeney, Spratt, McDonald and Kirke, infielders, and Miller, Campbell and Jackson, outfielders.

Miller and Campbell were too ill to play against the Collegians yesterday. Hogg and Dickson divided the pitching work, and both twirled big league ball.

Best 10-Milers in Pilgrim A. A. Run

Entries for the first open amateur handicap ten-mile cross-country run of the Pilgrim Athletic Association, which is to be held Saturday afternoon, close tonight with Secretary William M. J. Flynn at the downtown offices of the association in the Old South Building. The list promises to be the largest of any run ever held in Boston and will include the names of men whose past performances indicate that the race will be a close one.

Among those who notified the directors they would run were Festus J. Madden of the North Dorchester A. A., who is picked by many to win the B. A. A. Marathon this following Friday; Tom Lilley, Bob Fowler of Cambridge, whose prowess at long distance running is well known; Andrew Sockalexis of Old Town, Me., who is to compete in the Marathon on Patriots Day; Wm. E. Hulgan, Edward Clark and Al Upham of the North Dorchester A. A. These men with Clarence DeMar, who has entered, should make the race a fast one and with favorable weather, excellent time should be made. Six prizes will be awarded, including a gold watch for the best time.

An Added Pleasure to Smoking is the Assurance That It Isn't Hurting You

Only the man who makes smoking a vice instead of a pleasure wishes he could quit smoking.

The man who makes smoking a pleasure chooses cigars that are made for a pleasant smoke and not the heady, heavy kind that act as an opiate for jangled nerves.

WAITT & BOND BLACKSTONE CIGAR 10c

We make the WAITT & BOND BLACKSTONE cigar with a filler of finest Havana, but the wrapper is Sumatra—the light, filmy neutral leaf that combines to produce a smoke that is a comfort and a solace.

For 34 years there has been no better cigar of this type than the WAITT & BOND BLACKSTONE. We try to make it the best ten-cent cigar that can be bought.

Five Titles for New England

Many Surprises at Boxing Bouts

By JACK CONWAY.

Five New England boys won national titles at the amateur boxing championships which were held in Mechanics Building last night. One title went to New York and one to New Orleans.

John Silvestis, of Beverly, who won the heavyweight title in less than a minute, was not satisfied with the showing made by his opponent, Thomas Kelley, of Roxbury, and a special bout was arranged for him with Charles Beckler, of New Orleans. Beckler won after three rounds of hard fighting.

The bouts were witnessed by a crowd of five thousand enthusiastic boxing fans, who were kept in a fever of excitement throughout the evening by the spectacular work of the different performers.

Like the previous night, Dan McDonald of New Glasgow, N. S., engaged in the best going of the evening in the 158-pound class. His opponent was Arthur Sheridan, the Metropolitan champion of New York. Sheridan was returned the winner by a close margin.

Sheridan's Punch Gained the Award.

Both boys packed good wallops and showed their willingness to slug at close quarters which at once gained the favor of the fans. It is the opening round both boys were satisfied to size up each other with the result very little hard fighting was done.

The fireworks opened up in the second round with both boys slugging for all they were worth. They stood up at close exchange wallops in rapid order with the Gothamite having a little better of the mixing.

Sheridan led in the final round and landed hits to McDonald's head in rapid succession. Before the fighting had gone far in this round McDonald showed groggy. Sheridan followed up his lead and received the decision which seemed very popular with the crowd.

The second bout of the evening brought together Tommy Reagan, of Lynn, "boxer," and George Pritchard, of Boston, in the final bout of the 115-pound class. Reagan won out by a very close margin.

The opening bout of the evening was in the 105-pound class, between Jimmy Lynch, of Cambridge, the New England champion, and Dominick Carnegie of New York. Carnegie proved a good opponent for Lynch, but the Cantab's left hand and foot work proved the undoing of the Gothamite.

Patsy Green, of Cambridge, and Baby Snyder of the Acme A. A. met in the second bout in this class. Snyder started the fighting all the way through, but Green showed the better boy and was given the decision.

In the final bout in this class Jimmy Lynch, of Cambridge, beat Patsy Green, of Cambridge; 3 rounds.

Arthur Sheridan, of New York, beat P. A. Lavelle, of Somerville; 3 rounds.

HEAVYWEIGHT CLASS.

FINAL.

John Silvestis, of Beverly, beat Thomas Kelley, of Roxbury; 1 round.

SPECIAL BOUT.

Charles Becker, of New Orleans, beat John Silvestis, of Beverly; 3 rounds. (Referee's decision.)

Heavyweights Were Not in Evidence.

George Gamble of St. Johns, N. S., after having been warned repeatedly by the referee for low hitting, was disqualified in the second round of the opening bout in the 145-pound class with Charles Ashley of Boston.

William Widdecombe of Fort McKinley, Maine, who drew the bye in this class, met Ashley in the final bout. The lad from Maine proved easy for the latter as he was satisfied to guard himself while the fight was on and then exchanged a few punches had been swapped.

The final bout in this class proved a setto, the fighters being Arthur Sheridan of New York and Lavelle. The former's stops proved heavy pokes, but Sheridan was given the decision after some consideration on the part of the judges. The heavyweight crop was very much out of season last evening, only one bout being held. The second fell, lasted a minute. John Silvestis of Beverly dropping his opponent, Thomas Kelly of Roxbury, with a swing to the jaw.

A special bout between Charles Beckler of New Orleans, who weighed 157 pounds and John Silvestis of Beverly, who tipped the scales at 172, ended the evening's festivities and was full of fireworks from the start.

Beckler was defeated in the trials by Dan McDonald and thought the only way to get revenge was to beat Silvestis. This he did and in fine fashion.

LINE OF TALK HELPS CATCHERS

His gift of gab, so-called by the public at large, may win John Onslow a job as a catcher on the Detroit Club, says a New Orleans dispatch.

Conversation plays a big part in catching, much bigger than you who sit in the grandstand and the bleachers realize.

Johnny Kling, Roger Bresnahan, Charlie Dooin, Oscar Stanage and other great receivers, are all gifted with an unusual line of conversation.

Nearly all catchers talk, but few of them have any real meaning to their conversation. Stan backstope make a science of conversation. They realize that talking alone does not irritate a batter, something which happens to be the belief of the majority of receivers.

Oscar Stanage caused Ping Bodie to strike out three times in a close Detroit-Chicago game last season because he continually made reference to the details of a parrot story. Bodie was the victim of the parrot story, and at that time it was the laugh of the year. Stanage bought the story for a run in Washington and Germany Schaefer sent Bodie before coming himself in the owner of a bird store, and informing Bodie that he was settled to "real talking" parrot. Bodie hunted all over Washington for the bird store before he realized he was had.

It was Johnny Kling's speech to Ty Cobb that did much to keep the Georgian down in the Cub-Tigers series for the world's championship.

Boston Mat Favorite Downs Finnish Star

GREENFIELD, April 10.—Cyclone Burns of Boston, defeated Pekki, Finnish heavyweight wrestler, in straight falls, at Washington Hall. Burns had a something on Pekki from the start, but had to go the limit to get the first fall in 20 min. 40s with a body scissors and foot-hold. The second fall came easier and Burns had his man in 13m. 18s., with a body scissors and spread eagle.

In the preliminary, George Singo flowed better form than Louis Sandi and threw him once with a body scissors and head hold, but the match was called a draw, as neither man secured two falls in 45 minutes. George Tasker of Boston, was referee of the big match.

Golfing Season Opens Tomorrow

The initial tournament golf of the season hereabouts will be played by the women's Golf Association of Boston. The Spring meeting will be ushered in tomorrow by a team match at the Wollaston G. C. at which contests the members of the association will be played May 20-24. The Spring schedule:

April 11—Wollaston Golf Club, match play.

April 18—Bene-Burn Country Club, medal play.

April 19—Allston Golf Club, match play.

April 25—Country Club, match play.

May 2—Country Club, medal play.

May 9—Oakley Country Club, match play.

May 13—The Country Club, open medal.

May 16—Weston Golf Club, medal play.

May 20—The Meadow Brook Golf Club, match play.

NOTRE DAMES DESIRE GAME FOR APRIL 19

The strong Notre Dame baseball team is anxious to arrange a game for April 19 with any fast eighteen-year-old team in the State. The Roxbury nine is also desirous of booking games through the Spring and Summer. The lineup of this speedy bunch of ball tossers is Happy Welsh and Left King, pitchers; Joe Grimm, catcher; Grimm, right field; Hap Myers, left field; Jim Hughes, centre field; Lenny Dalton, shortstop; Oker O'Leary, catcher; Packey McFarland, second baseman. There are several candidates for third base. All challenges should be addressed to George Grimm, No. 6 Highland Park avenue, Roxbury. The Notre Dame team is the sixteen-year-old championship of the State last year.

CURRY-"BO" HARTFORD MATCH FALLS THROUGH

The bowling match between "Bo" Hartford and Neil Curry has been put over. Neil curry notified Hartford at the last minute that he was forced to go out of town and would not be able to get them up. Curry states that he will bowl Hartford next Monday and Tuesday, and to that Hartford has posted a forfeit with the Boston American to bind the match for that date and would like Curry to cover it. A good sized crowd gathered at the alleys to see the match and were given a sad disappointment.

New England Stars Who May Represent U. S. at Stockholm

PAUL WITHINGTON

PAUL RICHMOND WITHINGTON, Harvard's premier long-distance runner, has already started training for the Olympic trials and is confident that he will be selected to represent Old Glory at Stockholm, this Summer. Withington is a two-miler and has done some great work on the cinder path during the past two years.

Withington is a Boston boy and first saw the light of day twenty-one years ago. He attended the public schools of this city and prepared for the big university across the Charles at Noble & Greenough.

During his freshman year at Harvard he was out for the track team. In the annual class games he entered the two-mile race and won second place.

Withington's running attracted the attention of the Harvard coaches and he was urged to go in for the cross-country run in his second year in college. He did and made the varsity cross-country team.

He holds the college record for the two-mile run, having covered the distance in 9m. 53 4-5s.

Withington has been one of the mainstays of the Harvard track team during the past two seasons. Last year he won the two-mile run in the dual meets with Yale and Dartmouth, and finished fourth in the intercollegiate games.

Withington was a member of the Harvard-Yale team that went to England last Summer to compete against Cambridge and Oxford. He won second place in the two-mile run, after a thrilling contest. He is captain of the Harvard track team and is confident that his charges will do well this Spring.

DURNAN SIGNS FOR RACE.

TORONTO, April 10.—Articles of agreement have been signed between Edward Durnan of Toronto, champion oarsman of America, and William Haines of Boston for a three-mile sculling race on Toronto Bay, Wednesday, July 10, for the championship of America and $1,000 a side. Haines signed in Boston last Saturday.

YOU ARE IN A GROOVE

Many a man is in a groove and doesn't know it. He does the same thing each year and his personal appearance shows it.

Our object in life is to show a man the possibilities of changing his personal appearance for the better. We have done it for others, why not for you? "Eventually, why not now?" as the "Gold Medal" people say. Our prices for suit or overcoat run $15 to $25—nothing lower—nothing higher except in evening clothes.

96 COURT ST. OPEN EVENINGS

NINE SCHOOLBOY GAMES TODAY

Nine schoolboy games are down on the schedule for this afternoon, and out of this list it will be the opening game for fourteen of the teams.

The chief interest centres in the game between Boston English High and Medford High, to be played at the Fulton Street Grounds, Medford.

The Boston boys have been working hard outdoors for the past two weeks, and will present a good team. Coach Tenney has the boys in good condition, and they are confident they will register a win.

Coach Kendall of Medford will use his best team in the game, with either Durnin or Fahey on the mound. Both are reliable hurlers, and should win over the light and dark blue team.

Medford will inaugurate its season with the Cambridge Latin nine, on Hodge Field, Cambridge. The Boston team is composed of nearly all new players, and their ability is not as yet known, but Coach Fred J. O'Brien has worked hard with his men, and it is expected that he will develop a fairly strong combination. This will be the third game of the season for the Cantabs, and they expect a victory.

Dorchester High plays Boston College High in the opening game for both teams on the Dunbar Avenue Grounds, and a good game is assured.

Noble & Greenough play St. Mark's at Southborough, and Newton High goes to Franklin to play Dean Academy.

Everett High opens its season with Milton High, at Everett, and Coach O'Donnell has been working hard with his boys for the past two weeks, and reports will indicate a fairly strong team.

Malden plays Woburn at Malden in the opening game for both of the teams. Lynn English plays Cogswell, and Chelsea will clash with East Boston High at Chelsea.

TENNIS TITLE DATES HAVE BEEN ARRANGED

After more than two weeks' work straightening out conflicting applications for dates, the United States National Lawn Tennis Association made public tonight a list of ten fixtures for the season. The national championships are set as follows:

June 10—Woman's championships, and mixed doubles, on the courts at the Philadelphia Cricket Club, Chestnut Hill, Pa.

June 17—Men's championships at the Pittsburgh Athletic Club courts, Schenley Park.

June 24—Junior championships in singles, Longwood Cricket Club courts, Brookline, and Newport Tennis Club courts at Newport, R. I.

July 1—Intercollegiate championships, at the Merion Cricket Club courts, Haverford, Pa.

Jack Johnson Not Member of Masons

LONDON, April 10.—Jack Johnson is not a Free Mason. This is the conclusion arrived at by the committee appointed by the Free Mason Provincial Grand Lodge of Forfarshire to inquire into his hurried initiation last Summer as a member of the Dundee lodge.

The committee states that the meeting at which the initiation was carried through was illegal, and all the proceedings at that meeting are null and void and the initiation of Johnson has no effect.

The findings of the committee have been approved and the fee paid by Johnson will be returned to him and the lodge which admitted him will be directed to show cause why it should not be suspended.

Fairmount A. C. Cross Country Run April 19

The annual cross-country run of the Fairmount A. C. of Hyde Park will be held Friday morning, April 19, at 10 o'clock from Cleary square and proceed through River street to Mattapan square, to Dana's bridge to Milton street, Wolcott square, down Hyde Park avenue, back River street and finish in front of the grand stand in Everett square. There will be six handsome prizes and also a time prize. The distance is about seven miles.

The race is sanctioned by the N. E. A. A. U. and all that wish to compete must be registered. Entries close with Frank Carroll, 4rst Wednesday evening, at club rooms, Fairmount avenue. The prizes will be awarded in the evening at the dance of the Riverside Associates, that will be held in French's Hall.

BROOKLYN IS WINNER.

NEW YORK, April 10.—David Londerback, representing Brooklyn in the three-cushion tournament of the National Billiard League, defeated Dr. A. J. Harris of Chicago in 73 innings, 50 to 46.

LANGFORD AFTER JOHNSON.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 10.—Sam Langford says that now he has turned the tables on McVey he is anxious to get a match with Jack Johnson for the championship.

TRIP SOUTH FOR HARVARD TEAM

The Harvard varsity baseball squad will start Friday afternoon on its Spring training trip. A special car will take the team from Harvard square to the Back Bay station, where the men will board the 3:04 train for New York.

The team will go straight through to Philadelphia, arriving in the Quaker City at 11:04 P. M.

They will be quartered at the St. James Hotel for the night, and will go to Baltimore early Saturday morning, where they will play their first game with Johns Hopkins University that afternoon.

Sunday the team will go down to Washington. Monday the crimson will play the Catholic University, and Georgetown will be met the following day.

After the game with Georgetown the squad will return to Baltimore, where Jack Dunn's Baltimore team of the International League will be played Wednesday.

The next game on the schedule is with Annapolis Thursday, and the trip will wind up in New York Friday after the Columbia game.

The following men will be taken: Porter, Reeves, Young, Bartlett, Clarke, Joshu, Wingate, Bulson, Wigglesworth, Reynolds, Cook, Turner, Hitchcock, Felton, Gibson, Coach Sexton and possibly Hardy.

GENERAL BOOTH, 83, PLANS WORK

LONDON, April 10.—General William Booth of the Salvation Army, who is eighty-three today, issues the following message:

"At the end of eighty-three years of my pilgrimage I testify to the faithfulness of God, to the true happiness of a life spent in seeking to benefit others, and to the grand possibilities of goodness, which are now the hope of humanity.

"The span of life which may yet be left me I purpose to spend in the highest service. I know my sight has failed, but I am told that the operation I intend to undergo next month will much restore it. Though there must be some risk of total blindness, I shall go through with it, whether it succeeds or not.

"I hope to be spared to visit Canada and the United States during the year, as well as to inaugurate further efforts for the spread of our work in European countries and at home.

"My mind dwells specially on the problems involved in the better housing of the poorest people, and more discriminating and extensive distribution of those who could with advantage be transplanted to the land over the seas.

That Suffragette Hat

By MORTON BIRGE.

One picks up the paper and, right off the bat,
Reads: "THIRTY-EIGHT CENTS FOR A SUFFRAGETTE HAT,"
Which shows at least one little Joy in the lives
Of some of these husbands of suffragette wives.

"My wife," says a man, "is no blamed suffragette.
She's loving and wifely and stylish, you bet!"
And then Mister Man draws a check and gets rid
Of thirty-two bucks for his wife's Easter lid.

We don't want Friend Wifey-to turn suffragette,
We don't think she needs to go voting—and yet
We don't feel so sure that we know where we're at
Since thirty-eight cents buys a suffragette hat.

This suffrage is foolish, of course, but Gee Whiz!
That "Thirty-eight Cents" is a figure that IS!
Imagine! Just think! Would we like it? Immense!
We just can't get over that THIRTY-EIGHT CENTS.

Morse Has Nothing to Do With Morgan

Denies He Left Florence to Avoid Financier—Not Interested in Van Wyck, Either.

MILAN, Italy, April 10.—Charles W. Morse's ire seemed to be roused when asked if J. P. Morgan's arrival in Florence had anything to do with his own departure from that city, where he was booked for the month of April. Mr. Morgan had said in Rome a week ago he might see Morse in Florence.

Morse made a contemptuous denial that Morgan's movements in any way interested, much less influenced, him.

"I left Florence because I got tired of it," he said. "Now I am working my way slowly to Nauheim, for the baths. My health continues to improve, I am gaining strength daily."

Mr. Morse displayed interest in a report that Robert A. Van Wyck, with whom he had close business relations during Van Wyck's mayoralty, was about to return to New York, after a residence of several years in Paris.

"Well," he said, "here is my one final answer to all reports and questions of whatsoever kind: I have nothing further to do with either individual."

LINER TITANIC ON HER MAIDEN TRIP

SOUTHAMPTON, England, April 10.—Bearing 1,400 passengers, the new White Star liner Titanic, one of the two biggest ships in the world, sailed from here for New York on her maiden voyage today. The Titanic is a sister ship of the Olympic, both being of 45,000 tons displacement. Many notables were among the passengers and officials of the company were present when the Leviathan drew away from her docks. Great crowds gathered at the pier and cheered as the giant one, under convoy of a fleet of tugs, got under way. The Titanic was launched at Belfast on February 21. It contains squash courts, a gymnasium, Turkish and electric swimming baths and accommodations for 2,500 souls.

THREATEN TO BLIND CHILDREN

PROVIDENCE, April 10.—It was learned today that a package in the letter received by Mrs. E. D. Chesebro, wife of a physician in this city, threatening to blind her two children with vitriol, reads: "We want to get back to the old country. We have had a hard time and you have plenty. Give us $200."

Mrs. Chesebro is greatly concerned, fearing for herself and children, John, aged fifteen, and Mildred, aged seventeen. They were guarded today as they went to and from school.

A servant employed at the Chesebro home reported that on several occasions she has seen a suspicious looking man loitering about the rear of the house.

Finds Back Bay Likes Books on Religion

Dr. Mann of Trinity Church Declares Sacred Treatises Are Preferred To Novels and Biography.

Back Bay people choose religion for light reading. This is the conclusion of the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity Church, from the records of books taken out of the church library. The record shows that religious books of different sorts are taken out more frequently than any other kind. Next in order come the novels, with biography last. The margin is narrow and the record for the last two months as follows:

For February: Religious books, 136; novels, 133; biography, 100.

During March the record was as follows: Religious books, 121; novels, 115; biography, 108.

DR. WALKER DONS COAT AND GOES HOME

NEW YORK, April 10.—Dr. Mary C. Walker has so far recovered from her previous three weeks' illness here that she was able to get up, don her frock coat and top hat and leave for her home at Oswego, N. Y. Although her life was despaired of for a time, she rallied by sheer force of will and is now apparently well on the road to recovery.

BOSTON TAILOR IS NOMINATED FOR PRESIDENT

Arthur Elmer Belmer, a ladies' tailor of Boston, was nominated for President of the United States at the national convention of the Socialist Labor Party, held in New York, and August Gilhaus, a stationary engineer of New York, was nominated for Vice-President.

Daniel De Leon presented the platform, which condemned the methods of organizers like Haywood, who managed the Lawrence strike. The question of the final adoption of the platform was postponed until tomorrow, when printed copies of it will be distributed to all members of the convention. Twenty-eight delegates were present today.

HAYWOOD STAYS OUT OF PASSAIC

PASSAIC, N. J., April 10.—All work has been resumed after the holiday suspension at most of the textile mills in this city today by employes who originally remained at work and such strikers as have accepted the compromise offer of the companies to their demands for increased wages. In the afternoon 3,000 workers paraded the streets bearing banners lettered: "We strike for bread and liberty." "Don't be a scab," "We will not tolerate anarchy either in the ranks of the capitalists or laborers," etc.

William D. Haywood, whom the authorities have warned to keep away from the city, did not put in an appearance.

GROCERS OF STATE HAVE CONVENTION AT FANEUIL HALL

The annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers' Association opened today in Faneuil Hall. Addresses were made by Lieutenant-Governor Lee, Mayor Fitzgerald, Daniel C. Palmer, State Commissioner of Weights and Measures; Austin L. Baker, president of the Boston Wholesale Grocers' Association; George B. Watson, president of the National Association; Charles R. Fuller, director of the National Retail Grocers' Association, and S. P. Finnegan, president of the Boston Retail Association. The questions discussed included: "What does our association owe to its members and retail dealers?" and "What do the dealers owe to the association?" W. H. Perry of Newton opened the discussion. The annual banquet will be held tonight at the Quincy House.

500 LOSE LIVES IN A MEXICAN BATTLE

EL PASO, April 10.—Five hundred are reported killed in the fighting attendant on the capture of the city of Jopuita in the State of Morelos by 1,000 rebels under the command of Emiliano Zepata.

Sixty-five American refugees from Parral, who arrived from Jimines, reported that they were subjected to a rigorous search at Chihuahua and that mail was taken from them.

Among the refugees who reached here today were Edmund Putnam, a mining engineer of Boston; W. W. Stewart, manager of the Parral Electric Light & Power Company, and Edward Almy of Boston.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR CANADA LABOR MAN

W. L. Mackenzie King, former Minister of Labor of the Dominion of Canada, was the principal speaker at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon today at the American House. His subject was "The Investigation of Industrial Disputes in Canada." Mr. Mackenzie told how the Canadian deals with labor troubles. Arthur M. Huddell, business agent of the Building Trades Council of the American Federation of Labor, also spoke. Lieutenant-Governor Lice was among those at the head table.

Gives Men This Vitality of Youth

Vitality is the thing which makes success. It gives men that compelling power which sends them forth eager and equipped to meet and overcome all obstacles; it is the thing which gives the young soldier courage to face death; it is the thing which inspires and holds his sweetheart's love and faith. No matter what your age, I can give you this same vital force, and I can restore the strength you have lost, and keep any sense of weakness from returning. I can put you "young" again. Recently 100,000 weakened men, men who lacked VITALITY, came to me. I say to you that VITALITY is the lack of it that makes all the difference between a healthy man and a half man. The man who bubbles with vital strength will exert a pleasing influence upon all with whom he comes in contact; women are naturally attracted to him, as are men. Lack of vitality is a negative condition; and it sees only evils. You wear my HEALTH BELT all night; it sends a quiet, glowing, health-giving current of electricity (vitality) into your body, and organs that take on new "blood," red of your lack of it, and all that of your makeup; it puts you right up in the "leading row" class and keeps you there. No stimulation, no false results; just a sure return to health and vigor. Recommended also for rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, stomach and bladder ills and debility. It makes you feel young and keeps you feeling young forever.

Let Me Send You This Book FREE

It fully describes my Health Belt, and contains much valuable information. One part deals with various ailments common to both men and women, such as rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. The other part is a treatise for men. Both sent upon application, free, sealed, by mail.

If in or near the city, take time to drop in at my office, that you may see, examine and try the Belt. No charge for advice, either at my office or by mail. If you cannot call, write and get the free book by return mail. It is better than a fortune for any one needing new vigor. Hours 9 to 6.

I'LL BOARD THIS SIBERIAN TRAIN MYSELF, I'LL SNEAK INTO THIS ACTORS PRIVATE CAR AND GET SOME CLOTHES AND THEN TO HUNT THE ESCAPING LOVERS!
PRIVATE CAR
HALTSKI, WE APPOINT YOU AND LADY WITH HAIR TO KILL CZAR OF RUSSIA!
HORRORS! ROSAMOND, WE MUST DO THE BIDDING OF THESE MANCHURIAN NIHILISTS! ON TO ST. PETERSBURG!
LISTEN TROUPSKI, HAID OVER YOUR MAKE UP OF THE CZAR OF RUSSIA. BE QUICK, TOO!
WON'T GENERAL GRANT DO AS WELL?
WARDROBE OF TROUPSKI WORLD'S GREATEST IMPERSONATOR
NOW WITH THIS MAKEUP OF THE CZAR I'LL SUMMON THE TROOPS AND HUNT ALL MANCHURIA AND SIBERIA FOR THE LOVERS
DEATH TO THE CZAR!
CURSES! CLAUDE! IF I TAKE OFF THIS MAKEUP IT WILL BE WORSE FOR ME. CURSES!
HERSHFIELD

I.—OFF THE TRAIN.

Claude and Rosamond, having been put off the Siberian railroad by the Russian spies, are recognized by Desmond, one of the Russian actor and get some clothes. Actors, as you know, are never far from his clutches. Claude harries Rosamond for the number of garments they have sweetheart alone, but they will have to go fast to get away from the crafty villain now seeking their capture, and the possible tortures in store.

II.—THE VILLAIN'S PLOT.

Without his coat, Desmond feels quite at home, so he plans to enter the private car of a Russian actor and get some clothes. Actors, as you know, are never far from his clutches. Claude harries Rosamond for the number of garments they have sweetheart alone, but they will have to go fast to get away from the crafty villain now seeking their capture, and the possible tortures in store.

III.—AMONG THE NIHILISTS.

Horrors! Claude and Rosamond have fallen into the hands of a band of Nihilists, the most determined foes that the Russian monarch ever had. These men hand Claude a bomb and tell him that he and Rosamond must at once get on the trail of the Czar and remove him from the map. Claude must at least feign compliance.

IV.—A STRANGE DISGUISE.

In the meantime Desmond has entered the private car of the actor and as he sees the array of clothes a bright thought occurs to him. He will don the make-up of the Emperor of Russia and thus force all the employes of the railroad to do his bidding. It will then be a simple matter to have Claude imprisoned or sent into the mines for a life sentence.

V.—IN THE NAME OF THE CZAR.

Fully attired as the Czar of all the Russias, Desmond, the international crook, gaily sallies out of the car and plots in Claude, armed with the bomb, is right on hand, goes forth to get the troops in motion. He will now, he feels certain, entice the hero and condemn him to a life of slavery, while the beautiful Rosamond will be compelled to marry him. Truly a fine plan he has evolved.

VI.—THE FAKE EMPEROR.

"I'm the boy!" cries desperate Desmond, "but I wish I didn't look like Nicholas." But Claude, armed with the bomb, is right on the heels of the would-be villain, who is afraid to pose longer as Czar and afraid at the same time to disclose his own identity. The villain's plan didn't turn out just the way he expected and tomorrow we shall see its final result.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKETS; FINANCIAL NEWS

Market Weakens and Coppers and Rails Sell Lower

By W. H. ROSS.

STATE STREET, April 10.—Midday.—The first hour showed strength at the opening today, the weakness in New York having more or less reflex action here. In New York the day's political news was said to have a disconcerting effect.

At the start Crucible sold at 48, up 1⅛, a new high record for the year. Later it advanced ¼ additional. Before noon the market was on a lower price range, but fairly active. Lake, Calumet & Arizona and Boston & Superior sold fractionally lower, while Old Colony was off 1½, Mariposa 1¼ and Amalgamated 1¼. The London market began to work towards the close there, and in New York around midday Amalgamated, Utah, Steel and Union Pacific were all a point or more lower.

Prices Open Lower in New York.

When the New York market opened prices ruled lower and Union Pacific declined 1⅜ per cent., while a number of other leading issues sold off fractionally. Steel common opened at 71¾, a loss of ½ over Tuesday's closing, and immediately lost ⅛ additional. The copper group was also under fire. Amalgamated opened at 82¾, or ⅜ under the previous close, but in fifteen minutes its aggregate decline was ⅝. American Smelting dropped ⅛ upon the first few transactions. Erie common and preferred each lost ¼. Lehigh Valley was the only one of the hard coal carrying roads to open at all, the opening quotations being ½ higher. Pennsylvania was likewise active, selling ¼ off on ⅝. Reading was off ⅜. Missouri Pacific and Southern Railway opened unchanged, but later declined fractionally.

The curb was weak in sympathy with the stock exchange. Americans in London were above New York parity and arbitrage was therefore cheerful. Rio Tinto rose ¼ to 19⅞, a new high record on this movement.

Situation in the Copper Metal Market.

There was not much demand for copper metal reported yesterday before or after the report of the Copper Producers' Association for March. The output was according to all reports, was firmly held. In trade circles it is said today that the most encouraging thing about the report was the increase in demand to consumption of more than 11,250,000 pounds. This indicates that manufacturing in the country is increasing in this country. The increased sales in the home market more than compensated for the decline in the volume of exports. That decline is in no way significant when considered in connection with the effects of the coal strike in England, Scotland and Wales.

It is stated that there is little refined copper upon the market, only 6,000,000 delivered in June. The stocks available for prompt delivery do not aggregate more than a few million pounds. March production increased nearly 10,000,000 pounds, but the increased domestic consumption absorbed most of it, and a decrease in exportation is considered.

In London at the opening of the metal market spot was quoted at £70 1s. 2d., off 8s. 9d., and futures at £70 11s., off 8s. 9d. Early calls indicate that there was not much demand on that side there any more than in New York or other American markets. The demand may pick up in the British labor war if the collieries are back at work, but in producing circles in this country there is no apprehension of any marked increase in foreign demand at present.

According to Great British foreign trade statistics, England and Wales alone of London did not suffer as much from the big strike in the line of tonnage as was understood. In March, when the collieries were closed and manufacturing was carried every line hampered, British imports increased to the amount of £5,000,000, and exports decreased only about $750,000 net. Raw cotton imports increased $10,000,000 and there was a gain of $5,000,000 in the value of manufactured goods exported. The big shrinkage in exportation came through coal, which was entailed to the loss of $60,000,000 in this branch of commerce. For the first three months in this year British imports increased $58,000,000, and exports $21,667,248.

Counting Engineers' Strike Ballots.

The votes cast by locomotive engineers on about fifty Eastern railroads are being counted in New York today, but there is a question whether the result will be known before tomorrow. It was secret voting and locomotive chairmen say that they have no idea of the trend of the balloting. It is understood about 25,000 votes were cast. Chairman brought the news that all of these leaders began a meeting at 10 o'clock this morning.

On Wall Street it is thought that even if the engineers here refuse to go out unless their requests are complied with, that a strike will be averted. The balloting does not mean that the leaders must call the order if a majority of the voters have voted for such a course. The balloting, in fact, is simply an expression of the opinion of the engineers on the question submitted to them, and how it is a matter for leadership to decide. Grand Chief Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers may veto a strike vote, although he has no power to declare a strike without the approval of a majority of the men. It is currently believed engineers here would be in favor of striking but in their railroad circles there is an impression that the men will not go out.

Financial News in Brief.

Washington R. Thomas has been elected president of the Georgia Rapid Railway Co., which is called the Sugar Trust. He has been active with the Georgia Railway & Power Co. office will be moved to Atlanta.

The tonnage carried by the Panhandle road increased 7 per cent., to 1,987,000 tons, and an increase of 2.06 per cent. in passenger traffic. Net increased $10,000 over the same period previous year.

Chairman Frank W. Hale of the Union Trust Company of Detroit has been appointed receiver for the Pere Marquette road. Three receivers were named in the Wabash case, but yesterday in Chicago when Judge Landis of the United States District Court was absent, he decided that only one was needed to handle the road's property under the decree.

The gross revenues of the Long Island Railroad increased $72,635, or 1.62 per cent., in 1911, but expenses increased $344,233, or 8.70 per cent., leaving a net decrease of $271,598 in 1911 under 1910.

Under the Nashville stock reached a higher price level yesterday than has existed in thirty-two years. There are rumors afoot that a "melon" will soon be cut.

The governing committee of the Boston Stock Exchange has declared a dividend of 1 per cent. and a special dividend of ½ per cent. on the preferred stock of the Boston Stock Exchange Company, payable on or after May 1 to stock of record April 15.

Lawrence Harmon & Co., New York and Philadelphia bankers, have declared a dividend at No. 85 Broadway street, which is under the supervision of the Superintendent of Banks of New York State. The business will be transferred with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks of the Mercantile National Bank of New York and the Irving National Exchange Bank will be merged with the Irving National Exchange Bank branch.

Ed. Hintzen & Co. will offer to the stockholders of the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Co. at par, $100 each, preferred stock, a new $2,500,000 Worcester corporation, organized to take over the railway lines. The bankers have taken the whole issue.

The Alleged Potash Discoveries in the Western Desert

If the Potash Really Is There, in Millions of Tons, This Discovery Means Wealth Incalculable to the United States

Copyright, 1912, by American-Journal-Examiner

It is announced that in the barren desert land of our Western country there has been discovered an extraordinary deposit of potash, containing as much as six or possibly twenty millions of tons.

Government experts, expressing cautious opinions, declare that the amount of potash is probably great enough to supply all the needs of the United States for thirty years to come, and probably much longer.

This announcement means good news for every human being in the United States—and throughout the world, for that matter, since the United States feeds so many outside of our borders.

If it had been announced that a vast gold mine had been discovered containing hundreds of thousands of millions of dollars' worth of gold—the gold lying pure and clear and ready to be picked up—that announcement of gold finding would not mean to the country one-tenth what the discovery of this potash bed means.

For gold, at best, except for some slight use in the arts, is only useful as a token of wealth; it only serves us as a sort of artificial money token to pay for work done and wealth produced.

Whereas, the potash, far in value above gold, is the actual producer of wealth—IT IS WEALTH ITSELF. More important than anything else to agriculture and the production of food is potash.

If this Western deposit should prove all that is hoped, it will mean billions upon billions of extra bushels of corn and wheat and rye and oats, thousands of millions of barrels of potatoes ADDED TO THE ACTUAL PRODUCTION OF OUR LAND.

Every acre of ground in the United States can be made more highly productive, thanks to this discovery.

Every farmer, working to feed the people, will have his product increased and his expenses decreased by this great mine of wealth.

The important thing is to see that the discovery shall actually mean prosperity for the farmer, lower prices for artificial chemical fertilizers, and not merely some vast fortune for some one individual to be spent according to his foolish bent. Mr. Taft has taken steps to that end—much to his credit.

In any case, even if we have to go through the usual modern process of permitting some one man to own that which should belong to all and should enrich all, there is the discovery of great added wealth. There is in that bed of potash in the dismal desert the possibilities of food for millions upon millions of human beings for years to come.

The great announcement is dismissed with a few lines in the newspapers. It is actually more important to humanity, more full of meaning to our nation, than the trivialities of election, of politics and other trifles that fill the columns of the daily newspapers.

A mine of potash is a mine of REAL WEALTH far surpassing any gold mine or diamond mine in all the world's history, and we have reason to believe that the United States for the first time possesses such a mine.

An American Canal, But No American Ships

Month by month the time draws near for the opening of the Panama Canal. The commercial world of Europe and Asia is aglow with preparations for that earth-changing event. America digs—but takes no thought for the harvest of its own arduous planting. We are creating a waterway that will alter all the long trails of sea travel; we are spending our strength to double the efficiency of the ocean-carrying trade of foreign nations—but we are making no preparations to increase our own carrying trade.

The Canal will be American—but it now appears that the ships that sail through it will fly every flag but ours.

There is no news to tell of the revival of an American merchant marine; but there is much news of the expansive plans of Germany and other maritime countries in view of the expected opening of the Panama Canal.

Thus, for example. Mr. Philip Heineken, manager-director of the North German Lloyd Steamship Line, has just completed a survey of our Pacific ports, and announces that, with the opening of the Canal, his company will establish a direct service from Bremen to San Francisco, at passenger and freight rates identical with those of its Bremen-New York service.

Another German line—the Hansa—will make Tacoma the terminal of an interoceanic service, touching at other ports on our Pacific coast.

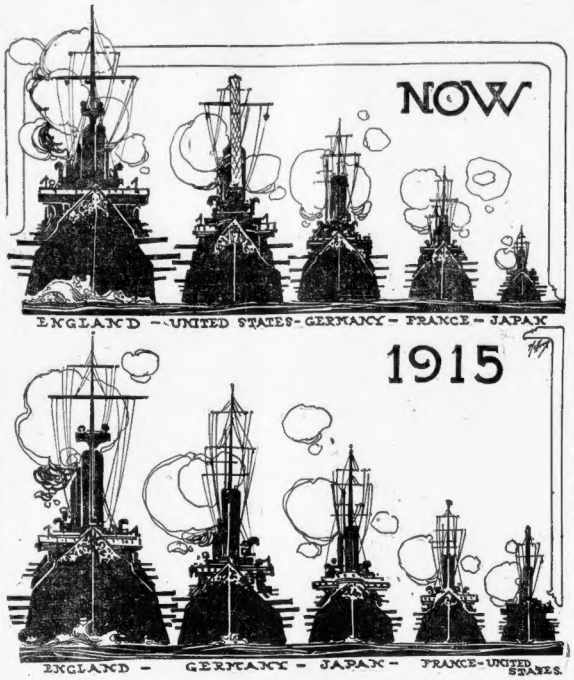
These two projects will not only bear heavily upon our transcontinental railroads, but will materially affect the commerce of New York and will make inroads on our Pacific coasting trade.

Once more this newspaper cries its warning: Wake up, America, wake up!

CONGRESS SHOULD NOT ADJOURN WITHOUT TAKING ACTION FOR THE RESTORATION OF THE LONG LOST OCEAN-CARRYING BUSINESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

WE PROTECT EVERY OTHER STAPLE INDUSTRY; WHY SHOULD WE MAKE AN EXCEPTION OF THE ONE INDUSTRY THAT INVOLVES ALL OTHER INDUSTRIES, THE ONE INDUSTRY THAT GIVES MEANING AND USE TO OUR GREAT LABOR AT THE ISTHMUS!

Effect in Three Years if the United States Stops Building Battleships



According to the naval estimates in the Secretary of the Navy's report, the United States will drop from SECOND to FIFTH place by December 31, 1915, if Congress now refuses to authorize new battleships.

The program since the Spanish War has been two new battleships a year. This policy has restored the prestige of the American navy, which now has not only the most powerful single dreadnaught afloat, but the fastest dreadnaught in the world, the Utah.

The present naval policy began under President Cleveland when William C. Whitney was Secretary of the Navy. Republican Congresses have patriotically carried it on.

Now that Congress is again Democratic, the duty devolves upon the Democratic party.

Every Representative in Congress who votes not to MAINTAIN the navy votes in effect to DESTROY the navy.

The Navy's Peril---By Our Contemporaries

(From the Rochester (N.Y.) Times.)

Injuring the Navy

A recent caucus of the Democratic members of the House of Representatives sustained its former action in voting to make no provision for battleships this year. Secretary Meyer is right in characterizing the action of the caucus as "an unwise, short-sighted and unstatesmanlike policy." He points out that this is the first step in the direction of a declining navy. It will deplete the military value of the fleet as an insurance against war and arrest progress. Even if a year from now we renew the building program of two battleships a year, the order on December 31, 1915, would be as follows: Great Britain, Germany, Japan, France, United States. Only a year ago the United States was second.

The leaders of the Democratic party are losing sight of the political and military necessity of the command of the Pacific. Their parsimonious policy will not be creditable or satisfactory to a nation of ninety millions of people. So far as can be foreseen at present, the United States will be the only important naval power in the world this year which will not lay down a single first class ship.

(From the Buffalo Courier.)

Hands Off the United States Navy

Unwise, unpatriotic, almost disloyal, is the action of the Democratic caucus at Washington, committing the party in Congress to the false economy of ordering no new battleships for the United States navy in the current appropriations for this year.

It is false economy, for the purpose of deceiving the people, the voters, at the coming quadrennial election. It is homebred leadership, an exemplification of the saw, penny wise and pound foolish. It is saving at the spigot to waste at the bunghole. It is a boomerang act and will hurt more than it will help.

It was the same absolutely misguided, abjectly servile, almost disloyal policy pursued by the weak and vacillating James Buchanan, just prior to the Civil War, and his reactionary friends and advisers, which plunged this country into a hapless and bloody four years' war. That war, forced by bonehead, weaklings and political mountebanks, cost hundreds of thousands of precious lives, cost billions of money.

The action of the caucus held yesterday means that it is a notice to rival nations that the United States will as usual, be caught napping and unprepared. It will relegate the United States, as a naval power, from the second position to the fifth place, trailing in the rear of even France and Japan. It is a direct menace to the peace, possibly the very existence of the Republic. The great need of the Democratic party, at this very moment, is better leadership—and a plentiful supply of Progressiveness.

WHY DO MEN CONTINUE TO FOLLOW THE DONKEY? WHY DON'T THEY LEAD THAT DONKEY?

(From the New York City Globe.)

We Need Those Battleships

Any time would have been a bad time for the Democratic caucus or any other caucus to vote for an abrupt change in the naval policy of the United States. This year, however, was a worse time than any earlier year for making such a change.

No one has put this so forcibly as Admiral Mahan in his letter to the Times. The Panama Canal, he says, "has this peculiarity, that it constitutes an entirely new strategic centre of the utmost world-wide importance in commercial, and therefore in international conditions."

And it is now, when the canal is in the making, when it will soon be finished, when the United States will have more to defend than ever before, that the Democratic caucus votes to omit the usual addition of two battleships to our means of defence.

(From the Washington Post.)

Crippling the Navy Foolhardy

The American public has only a vague idea of Great Britain's territorial interests in the neighborhood of the Canal or in what measure that property is circled by the constituent parts of the proposed dominion.

Jamaica commands every approach to the Caribbean end of the Canal, with the other islands available as additional naval bases if wanted for that purpose. It was claimed for a time by our naval authorities that Guantanamo, our naval base at the eastern end of Cuba, insured the safety of the Canal, but the boast encounters the negative opinion of Captain Mahan, who is quoted as saying only that Guantanamo commands the Gulf of Mexico, such a naval force as Great Britain could any day send to the Caribbean would be able, if our naval policy is adhered to, to sweep that sea and put the interests of the United States in the greatest jeopardy. British expansion in the West Indies is to be reckoned with, if Guantanamo and the Monroe doctrine are to be safeguarded from the scrap heap.

Battleships Cheaper Than Battles

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

The question of appropriating money for two new battleships is not a partisan question, and the Democratic members of the House Naval Committee who intend to vote for two new battleships are fully justified in disregarding the action of the caucus.

In less than three years, even with two new battleships each year, Germany's naval strength, measured by capital ships, will be twice that of the United States. It should also not be forgotten that Germany's large ports (but two or three in number) are impregnable, being defended by the army, which leaves the German navy free for offensive operations. In less than three years Japan's navy appears likely to have as many capital ships (of the battle-cruiser type, however) as the United States will have dreadnoughts. Our relations with both Germany and Japan are, of course, most friendly, but it would be most foolish if we failed to consider them as possible opponents.

The Monroe Doctrine, made effective by a powerful navy, can alone maintain international peace in South America and Central America during the twentieth century, as it has during the nineteenth. "Battleships are cheaper than battles." A nation that spends $800,000,000 in one year for jewelry and $500,000,000 for candy can afford $125,000,000 for an adequate navy. Yours very truly,

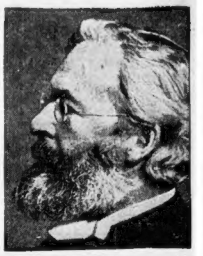
Why We Should Americanize Foreigners —AND— Keeping Up the Literary Hunger



Written for the American by

Dr. C. H. Parkhurst

ON attempting to enter a great hall recently on the occasion of a largely attended service it was impossible to secure immediate entrance.

The door was kept closed against us, the courteous usher remarking, as it was his right and duty to do, that he could let in only a few at a time, and that we should be admitted as soon as those who were already inside had been comfortably placed.

This policy was eminently proper and no one, however anxious to be allowed to pass, was disposed to find fault with it.

It was more orderly and more comfortable for those inside as well as for those outside.

It was so sensible a way of disposing of the crowd that I was set wondering why we did not adopt a method, somewhat in keeping with that, in handling the hordes that swarm around our national doors of entry.

We are not motived to this suggestion by any hostility to foreigners.

We Want to Be a Nation, Not a Bundle of Fragments

With the exception of the American Indians we are all of us immigrants or descendants from immigrants. So that if we were to cherish any antipathy toward new-comers from abroad it would be in order for us to remember that that is just the way the Indians felt toward our ancestors on their first arrival here.

But even granting the kindliest of sentiment on our part as toward people born and brought up elsewhere, there is some consideration due to those already occupying our country, whether natives or foreign-born.

We want to be a nation, not a miscellaneous bundle of small national fragments loosely fuddled together, carrying the NAME of nation, but destitute of its REALITY.

If it be said that there is room inside of our three and a half million square miles for a larger population than we now have, so there was room inside of the hall for a larger audience than was inside the closed doors, but it was nevertheless simple prudence to put restraint upon those outside that were trying to get through the doors.

The mistake we are making is to receive immense consignments of foreign flesh and blood faster than we can Americanize it.

I attended recently a strikers' mass-meeting, in which fourteen different nationalities were represented, and the only Americanism there was about any of them was their appetite for wages.

We are not objecting to those people in themselves considered any more than we would object to three or even five meals a day, provided only there be left between each two meals a sufficient interval for digestion.

There seems to be about our American way of managing things a certain carelessness as to after effects.

We went on consuming forests till the land was to such an extend denuded as to result every year in an alternation of inundations and droughts—the former drowning us out, and the latter burning us up—and then we began to talk about conservation; let the horse be stolen and then barricade the door.

The best and most statesmanly thought that we can give to today is that which containg in it at least half a thought for tomorrow.

IT is good reading that makes good editorial. It is good hearing that makes good preaching.

Rain does not hit the purpose for which it is intended unless it falls upon porous soil.

Similarly, through the medium of books, magazines and newspapers, a great deal of thought, that is as fresh and fertilizing as the rain which drops from the sky, falls upon the public mind, and if it would be wonderfully interesting to know just what percentage of that commodity soaks down into the intelligence of readers and what percentage runs off and goes to waste.

It would also be of interest to know whether, if there were less written, it would be better read.

Biographies tell us of men who became great, but whose library, when they were boys, was limited to the Bible, "Pilgrim's Progress," "Robinson Crusoe" and the speller. Mr. Lincoln's experience was of that order.

We know that what little he had to read he read tremendously.

Let Opportunities Pass Because We Have Too Many

He was kept so short of intellectual provender that what little was furnished him he not simply consumed, but devoured.

We have great opportunities, but, human nature being what it is, one reason why we make so little of our opportunities is that we have so many of them. Hunger is the best sauce.

A man eats better if he is kept just a little hungry.

The Coal Miner

By CHESTER FIRKINS

A RUMBLING from the deep—
From out the tomb
Where living toilers keep
Their tryst with Doom!

The human Titan stirs
His Atlean arms—
The vast world's carriers—
Ring stern alarms.

From craters made by man
The flame tongues flare;
Across the ocean's span
Their lightning's glare.

For he, who in the damp
Wields pick and spade,
Sees by his helmet lamp
The world he made.

Knows that upon his might—
His perilled toil
Rests all of earth's delight
And golden spoil.

Who, by his vengeance-call,
Can hold today
A mighty land in thrall
To prove his sway.

But who asks nothing more
Than food and home
For them that keep his door
And share his doom.

A rumble and a shock;
A challenge hurled
Beneath the bedded rock
Across the world!

Proud may his masters be
To bow and yield!
God, give Thy victory
Unto his shield!
